'Auto Buy' Campaign Is Off to Flying Start

Sedalia's recession-fighting "You Auto Buy Now" program which got under way Friday morning is off to a fine start with more than $100,000 in new and used cars and trucks sold by Saturday noon.

At a meeting of the nine new car dealers in Sedalia at the Bothwell Hotel, dealers reported that 62 units had been sold the first 1 1/2 days of the campaign. On Friday, dealers reported sales of 31 units at a value of $50,932. On Saturday, deliveries rose to $114,000 and the number of units doubled.

"We feel that the campaign is off to a terrific start," Mike O'Connor, chairman of the steering committee of the Sedalia New Car Dealers Association, said. He said the only complaint he had heard was for people who hadn't been called by telephone. He offered apologies on behalf of the organization and explained why some people hadn't been contacted.

Last week the association got together 40 salesmen and began calling every number in the phone book. The job was completed in two days. People who didn't receive their calls were not at home or the line was busy.

"We couldn't call the numbers twice," O'Connor explained. "Because the salesmen were busy making personal contacts with prospective buyers."

Saturday, which was one of the nicest days so far this year, was also one of the busiest days for automobile dealers. Visitor traffic was above average on showroom floors and at used car lots. Demonstrators were busy showing off special features of about $2 million worth of cars offered for sale at special discounts.

The nine new car dealers who spiced the campaign are the Askeew Motor Co., Fourth and Lamine; the Bryant Motor Co., Second and Kentucky; the Jenkins-Greer Motor Co., 218 South Osage; the Mike O'Connor Chevrolet-Buick Co., 400 South Osage; Cal Rogers Pontiac Sales, Fifth and Kentucky; Routzong Motor Co., 225 South Kentucky; W. A. Smith Motors, 206 East Third; E. W. Thompson Edsel-Rambler Sales, 1700 West Broadway, and 120 West Fifth; and the Tippie Motor Co., 209 South Washington.

Originally there were 406 new cars, 98 new trucks and 982 used cars offered. The vehicles are displayed at the various lots and showrooms, and are marked with both the regular and sales discount prices. The sale will last through April 21.

Almost every retail merchant in Sedalia has joined in the campaign. Advertising and displays urge residents to "Buy Now" and combat a recession. "Business Is Good, You Auto Buy Now," reads one slogan. Others proclaim "You Auto Buy"—groceries, furniture, tires, clothes and carpets. One firm says "You Auto Buy Now With A Low Cost Loan." All firms questioned reported the campaign has created a terrific impact on retail sales.

Sedalia took the lead over most Missouri cities in the nationwide "Buy Now" campaign. One city, St. Joseph, tried out the idea a few weeks ago with success. Cities throughout the nation are joining in with the idea of urging people to buy with confidence in the nation's economy, and thus create more jobs and keep money in motion.

Gov. James T. Blair, Jr., last week commended Sedalia for taking the initiative in the forward move. This week he issued a proclamation for the period of April 19-30 as statewide "You Auto Buy Now" period. He noted that results in markets where such campaigns have been conducted have been most dramatic.

He said: "It is planned that the 'Buy Now' approach will be adopted and supported by every type of business. The industry hopes to spark a total buying campaign which will be felt from the smallest store to the largest corporation."

The Sedalia auto dealers plan a series of meetings between salesmen and dealers to iron out any problems which might arise. The next such meeting will be held at the Pacific Cafe Monday at 7:30 a.m.

Wagner Files For County Collector

Frank L. Wagner, accountant with the Taylor-Wagner Co., has filed for nomination to the office of Pettis County collector of revenue on the Republican ticket.

Wagner is a former Pettis County treasurer, holding that office during the term preceding the current term held by Virgil Houchens. He filed his intentions with the county clerk Saturday morning. He is opposed by the incumbent, Raymond F. Wilder, and Ike L. Warren, both on the Democratic ticket.

Fire Guts Marshall Car Firm

Earl Kays Motor Co. Burns In Second Big Fire In 4 Months

Marshall suffered its second large fire in four months to the day Saturday, when the Earl Kays Motor Co., 164 South Salt Pond, was destroyed by fire. The fire originated in an upstairs storage room and was discovered about 5:10 p.m.

The estimated loss could not be made late Saturday night, but it was said the loss to the building, automobiles and equipment would be several thousand dollars.

The building adjoins the Marshall Police Department and Fire Department building and was completely gutted by the fire. The only damage to the city building was the breaking out of several windows and smoke damage.

A telephone cable near the fire was burned in two and disrupted telephone service in and out of Marshall for about two hours and knocked out telephones at the police and fire station as well as other phones in the immediate area.

It was reported one new car was destroyed and nine customer and used cars were lost in the fire. Two other new cars were driven out of the fire without being damaged.

At the height of the fire assistance was asked from Booneville and Slater fire departments but was not needed as the Marshall fire fighters and a large number of volunteers were able to battle the flames to a check and kept it confined to the one building.

Communications between the telephone office and the fire were maintained through walkie-talkie radio until telephone lines could be temporarily repaired. The fire was under control within two and a half hours time.

Mother of Agriculture Commissioner Dies

COLUMBIA (AP)—Mrs. George L. Williamson, mother of John Sam Williamson, Missouri commissioner of agriculture, died Friday morning at her farm home near here. She was 90.

Besides her son, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ruby Hickman of near Columbia and Mrs. Mary Wilson of near McBaine, Mo., and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church here.

No Cutback In State Fair Appropriation

Operations Money Same As for 1957; Improvements Won

The Missouri State Fair one-year appropriation was left by the state legislature at the same figure the fair had for 1957 which was $130,000, an extra $211,000 was appropriated for capital improvements, according to State Representative Milt Overstreet, of Pettis County.

Overstreet pointed out that the $160,000 was slashed to $100,000 during the session, but after a conference $30,000 was restored to give the fair the same amount as the previous year.

He emphasized the need for the capital improvement money. Broken down, this will be $140,000 for a new addition to the large swine building, $40,000 to complete the new sheep pavilion, $12,000 for resurfacing and improving the mile and half-mile race tracks, $2,000 for a water fowl exhibit, and $17,000 for repairs to the horse barns which have been needed for a number of years.

The $2,000 for the water fowl exhibit was an amendment offered from Representative "Buck" Robinson of Knox County. This will provide an additional exhibit of geese and ducks for the fair.

Overstreet also said the money for the State Employment Service building to be located on East

Arrives in August

Exchange Student From Greece Will Study in Sedalia's Schools

Clio Tsateri of Corfu, Greece, will be the American Field Service Exchange student who will come to Sedalia in August, according to Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, chairman of the American Field Exchange Student here.

Clio, who is 16, will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sklar, 204 Driftwood Drive. The Sklars have a son, Dick, 17, who will be graduated this spring from Smith-Cotton and will go to college this fall, so he will not be home a great deal to see Clio, but his sister, Diane, 15, who will be 16 in August, is eagerly awaiting the arrival of her "sister" from Greece.

Perhaps the best idea of what Clio and her family are like comes from her own letter which follows: "My name is Clio Tsateri. My native land is Corfu, a small but picturesque island in the middle of the wonderful blue Ionian Sea. I am 16 years old and I go to the seven class of the high school.

"I am of medium height, my hair is brown and my eyes are green. I am not the best student of my class, but I am fairly good. "My favorite lessons are mathematics, physics and chemistry. The new inventions are very interesting subjects to me. Something that interests me too are the books in which I can find the manners and customs of different countries. Other books I like to read are about Greek and foreign mythology. The novels of Zweig, of Cronin, of Anna Marie Selimo and above all the novels of Pearl joke with them, but my jokes are harmless and friendly.

"Although I don't live in the country for a long time I am very happy when I go for an excursion with my school fellows.

"Something I like very much is dancing. I like the old dances but I prefer the modern ones which are most enjoyable and gay.

"I like all kinds of sports but, above all, I like volleyball and swimming. Oh! it is so wonderful to be in the sea during the summer!

"Now it is time to tell you something about my family. My family consists of my mother, my father, my sister, my grandmother, and me. My father was an army officer. Two years ago he retired with the rank of brigadier. When he retired we settled in Corfu. My mother is a good housewife. She is always ready to make a nice sweet or a tasty dish. When I have some free minutes I enjoy helping her to make a cake or some biscuits. My sister is a little girl of ten years old. She is in the fifth class of the primary school. In winter life is dull as in every province. My sister and I go to school every morning ex-

Arises From Widening Project

Drainage Problem Appears Headed for Sedalia Council

One of the first problems which will confront the new City Council will be a drainage controversy that has arisen as a result of the Missouri Highway Department's current widening project on Broadway.

It will be presented to the Council in the form of a letter from Burns and McDonnell Engineering Co., Kansas City, to Mayor Julian Bagby, and it centers around the drainage facilities at the intersection of Broadway and Sneed. Bagby said that he would present the letter to the new Council at its April 21 meeting.

The letter is actually a report on the engineering firm's findings after it inspected the facilities almost two weeks ago at the request of Mayor Bagby, who had in turn been approached by home owners in the newly-developed area to the north of the intersection. Mentioned in the report is the concern over the possibility of flooding the new homes by water entering into the natural drainage ditch on the north side of Broadway. The water flows in a westerly direction.

The controversy is a professional one between engineers over what is likely to happen in that area in event of an unusually heavy rain.

Attached to the letter to Mayor Bagby, which was written by Allan H. Wymore, of the engineering firm, is a copy of a memorandum by Wymore to the Kansas City district office of the Highway Department in which Wymore states that, as a result of the widening project, there will be a 7 per cent additional run-off of water into the existing drainage ditch.

The memorandum states, "Flooding at the location in question will be caused by the inability of the ditch and structures downstream from this location to carry away the water. . . . Under the flood condition described, the extra water caused by the highway improvement will cause the water level to be about six inches higher than it would be otherwise. . . . In summary it may be said that the highway improvement may be expected to increase the danger of flooding of the property in question."

In opposition to this opinion is the opinion which Wymore attributed in his letter to Robert Jones, designer of the storm sewers being installed by the Highway Department, a Mr. Leland Fletcher and M. J. Snider, district engineer, both of the Highway Department: "The discharge of their 42-inch and 24-inch storm sewers into the city's concrete culvert under Broadway will cause turbulence and interference with normal flow with the probability that the water will not be discharged as rapidly as intended. This would lessen the possibility of flooding of the houses north of Broadway and increase the accumulation of water south of Broadway."

Wymore then stated, "We did not arrive at any specific program of temporary relief of the home owners near the outlet at Seventh and Sneed Avenues (one block north of the intersection of Broadway and Sneed). Protection from flooding, at least flooding from the ditch directly, might be obtained by the construction of a low wall along the north bank of the ditch. Of course, if the area west of Carr Avenue is flooded, water will be impounded over a considerable area and a single wall along the ditch will not give complete protection.

"It should be repeated," his letter continues, "that the only sure and permanent protection from flooding is to provide adequate structures and adequate water ways to carry away the storm water as rapidly as it accumulates. The protection of any particular location such as that at Seventh and Sneed requires that the improvements below that point be completed in order to prevent

Community Concert Group Membership Drive Opened

The Sedalia Community Concert Association annual campaign is underway and will continue through Saturday, April 19, offering to the membership a series of concerts to be given in the Smith-Cotton Auditorium. In addition concerts are available in Warrensburg and Jefferson City.

Russell Maag, membership chairman announces that Igor Gorin has been secured as a hold artist for the 1958-59 season. Possessing a brilliant baritone voice Igor Gorin has reached a position of eminence throughout North America in the fields of concert, opera, television and radio. In leading baritone roles in such operas as "Faust," "Pagliacci," and "The Barber of Seville," he has appeared with leading opera companies from coast to coast, and is a favorite on such radio and TV shows as "The Telephone Hour" and "The Voice of Firestone."

Gorin received his musical education at the famous Conservatory of Vienna, and started his singing career in the opera houses of Europe. An American citizen since 1939, he returned to Europe for the first time during the summer of 1954 for recreation and performances in many countries. As a member of ASCAP, his published compositions run the gamut from Negro spirituals to art and cowboy songs, all part of his regular repertoire.

Igor Gorin

Today Gorin is a top name in music. The combination of a thrilling voice with strong interpretive powers, interesting programs and a dramatic stage personality have made for unanimous enthusiastic acclaim.

Annual Missouri Missionary Meet Closes Friday

The 34th annual meeting of Missouri Woman's Missionary Union closed its meeting Friday noon following a message by Mrs. Gerald Harvey, missionary to Southern Rhodesia.

She described life and conditions in the city of Bulawayo as a city of contrasts. In an imaginary visit she told of the beautiful residences with a car in every drive-way and servant's quarters behind every home. The business district has wide paved streets and buildings of modern architecture. The contrast is seen as this area is left to drive to the African locations. In this section 200,000 native black people and there is sin, strife and uncleanness.

Mrs. L. E. Mixson, St. Louis, as president of the Woman's Missionary Union and Education Convention expressed appreciation for the love and cooperation between the two groups of women.

During the business session committees reported and three area women, offices created by the adoption of new by-laws, were elected. Those elected to serve in this capacity were Mrs. Kenneth Stockard, Lee's Summit, Mrs. Curtis Hutcherson, Warrensburg, and Mrs. Fred Neiger, Columbia.

As the sessions closed, business women were arriving to begin the annual meeting of the Business Woman's Federation under the direction of Mrs. Opal Box.

Atlantic Fleet Units To Go On Maneuvers

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Adm. Jerold Wright, commander in chief of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, announced Saturday that units of the Atlantic Fleet will sortie from East Coast ports within the next few days to conduct anti-submarine warfare training exercises.

This training operation in the Atlantic is one of a series planned to exercise fleet ships, planes, and personnel in the latest anti-submarine techniques, an Atlantic Fleet spokesman said.

Russians Begin Easter Celebration Saturday

MOSCOW (AP)—Russians Saturday began celebrating their Easter, traditionally an important holiday in the Soviet Union even for non-Christians who use the day for exchanges of visits and parties.

Churches—Russian Orthodox—and others were jammed for special Easter Eve services. Churchgoers take special Easter cakes to the services to be blessed by a priest. They will be eaten Sunday.

Drivers Training Instructor Fined

COLUMBIA (AP)—"I find this awfully embarrassing," Lewis Hobson of Winfield, Mo., told Magistrate Temple H. Morgett Saturday morning as he paid a $15 fine for speeding on U.S. 40 near here.

Hobson said he is a driver training instructor at Winfield High School and a member of the Winfield Safety Council.

New Council Has Informal Conference

Silverman Introduces Attorney Salveter As City Counselor

Mayor-elect Abe Silverman was host to the holdover City Council members and the Councilmen elected April 1 at an informal dinner held at the Old Missouri Homestead Thursday night.

Mayor Silverman also had as his guest at the meeting Henry C. Salveter, who he announced will be the new city counselor after April 21.

The holdover Councilmen, all Democrats, are: Earl Paxton, first ward; Woodrow Garrison, second ward; Pat Clark, third ward; and Aubrey Case, fourth ward. The elected members are Ronald N. Snavely, Democrat, second ward, who was re-elected, and the following three Republican members, Clyde Swafford, fourth ward, Paul Hausman, first ward, and Harold Vogel, third ward.

"The purpose of our meeting was to get acquainted and discuss future problems of the city," Silverman said, "and I am sure the meeting was most successful."

One of the problems discussed was that of a new city clerk to succeed W. C. "Wink" Ream. Silverman pointed out that the position had been offered to Ream, but for business reasons and the desire for a more stable position, he did not care to accept.

"However," Silverman said, "Mr. Ream has been most cooperative and has said that he will remain with us for a short while and assist breaking in the new clerk. Mr. Ream is an excellent man for the position and those who know him regret his loss to the city."

"As a result of Mr. Ream's decision, we are now looking for a qualified man to take the position. Applications are in order and anyone desiring to apply should contact his Councilman," Silverman said.

It was also brought out at the meeting that no appointments are to be made until after April 21.

Identification by Nathan Leopold Leads to Capture

CHICAGO (AP)—Authorities said a photo identification made by Nathan Leopold before he was paroled had led to the arrest Friday of a man sought in a North Side robbery.

Miss Celia Miller, 44, told police a man she knew as Jack Keller took $800 from her home Dec. 7 after binding her hands and mouth with tape.

Miss Miller recalled her assailant had surrendered a chauffeur's license, bearing a photograph of himself, for a traffic violation a few days earlier.

Detectives found the photo under the name of Jack Laverne. They sent it to Stateville Prison on the hunch that their man might be an ex-convict.

At Stateville, Warden Joseph E. Ragen said Leopold recalled seeing the man at services in the prison chapel. Leopold also recalled that his name was Jack Besmel, 32, a lifer paroled in December 1955.

Police picked Besmel up Friday night at a rooming house where he formerly had lived. Officers said he admitted the holdup.

The check of the photo at the prison was made some time before Leopold was freed on parole March 13.

Street Needs Are Discussed With Whitten

A meeting with Rex Whitten, chief engineer of the Missouri State Highway Department, was held Saturday afternoon in Jefferson City by Mayor-elect Abe Silverman, Councilman Woodrow Garrison, and Jack Faber of the Chamber of Commerce. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the street and highway situation in Sedalia.

Silverman arranged for the meeting and to have Garrison, chairman of the street and alley committee of the new Council, present. He has announced the appointment of Garrison to head this committee again, the same as he has in the past several years.

"We seek the advice and council of Mr. Whitten because we feel he may be the answer to our street problems in Sedalia. When Mr. Whitten was contacted he told me he would be glad to give some of his time for discussion of the situation."

"I know of no better place to get such information, than from Mr. Whitten," Silverman explained. "Of course we are not expecting him to take over Sedalia's problems, but his valuable knowledge of roads will be helpful to us in beginning our plan for improvement."

Faber accompanied Silverman and Garrison for the purpose of discussing the future of highways in the Sedalia area.

Congressman Moulder Visits Sedalia Area

Congressman Morgan Moulder, 11th Congressional District, was an overnight visitor in Sedalia Friday and Saturday, Saturday afternoon he spoke at a luncheon meeting of officers and representatives of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers held at the Sky Haven Motel dining room west of Warrensburg. The Congressman also took part in panel discussion in the afternoon.

He returned to Sedalia late Saturday afternoon for a short visit with friends before departing for Booneville where he attended Saturday night the Kemper Military Academy anniversary.

Monday Congressman Moulder will appear on the Missouri Forum over KOMU-TV at Columbia, Channel 8.

With Mrs. Moulder, the Congressman has been spending the Easter holidays with relatives and friends at their hometown of Camden-

The girl's domestic science class was busy cutting and sewing spring garments.

A member of the group said it was like meeting an old friend when she stepped into the English classroom, and saw an outline on the board of "Silas Marner". She said she thought of her English teacher, Miss McCluney, and could almost hear her quote the lines, "There are debts that we cannot pay, like money debts, by paying extra for the years that have gone by."

The next school was Sacred Heart. Here they were greeted by the Rev. Francis Laudick, who showed the group around the old part of the school first and then through the new section with its gym and stage for school plays. The large windows on the north give the rooms good light to work by.

They were deeply impressed when they arrived at the first grade room to be greeted by the 52 little voices singing a good-morning song to the guests. One wondered how the sister, so tiny herself, could handle 52 pupils, but all were quiet and well behaved children in the classroom. Sacred Heart, too, had a modern kitchen and cafeteria.

Then the group went to Mark Twain. They arrived just as part of the classes were having noon hour. A baseball game was in progress, boys and girls both playing on the new asphalt playground. This, the group felt, was a wonderful improvement over the old cinder or shale covered playgrounds, where shoes are so badly scuffed and jeans torn by the sharp rocks.

How nice it would be, commented one of the group if all of the school grounds could be treated with asphalt before next September.

Jack Delph, principal of Mark Twain, took the group to the cafeteria through the "patio", better known as the furnace room and a music room combined, for the overflow of music pupils go there for lessons. Along the south wall were music stands.

The art students had been quite busy making safety posters for the halls, figures artistically made of pipe cleaners. Also, there was the Easter egg tree.

In the entrance to the Grand Avenue doorway, they could see Mrs. Bettye Murrell, school nurse, who had set up an office by closing the doors to the entrance hall. She was busy giving some special eye tests.

The Sack Dress

Fickle Fashion Has Struck Out With Nation's Blue Denim Lass

By Eugene Gilbert

The chemise, known in the vulgar as the sack dress, is strictly for sad sacks, as far as the nation's teenagers are concerned. Fickle fashion's most controversial item since the new look of a decade ago has definitely struck out with the pony tail and blue denim set.

The boys, in particular, regard it as an abomination. Of those who polled in a nationwide survey, 86 per cent roared abuse at this throw back to the Roaring '20s. Only 8 per cent said they liked it, and the rest hadn't seen it yet.

Girls were almost as vehement in their denunciation of the sack dress but did not always practice what they preached. When asked if they liked it, 65 per cent of the bobby-soxers answered with a definite No.

But not all had the courage of their convictions. Almost three out of every 10 sheepishly admitted that, as slaves to fashion, they already had bought one or more chemise dresses, even though 86 per cent of the boys and girls—especially the boys—say it never will last.

"I hate it," confessed Marilyn Peters of Toledo. "But what can you do? You have to keep up with the times." Morris Oppal of Cleveland neatly summed up the feelings of his fellow men with a few inflammatory adjectives: "absolutely hideous, horrendous, terrible and vile."

Boys were outspokenly concerned about the camouflage job that the new sack dresses perform on the feminine figure. "I want my girl to look like a girl, not a potential butterfly wrapped in a cocoon," complained a Chicago store, the family spent the rest of the evening reminiscing about the good old days. "My mother," she reported, "brought out the old picture album and showed some of the things she wore at my age. Almost every outfit could make the fashion magazines today."

The chemise style fared poorly in a comparison vote with the tight-fitting sheath dress and the ever popular flared skirt. Only 31 per cent of the girls and 8 per cent of the boys gave the sack style the nod over these perennial fashion favorites. As a Chicago girl explained, "the sheath makes the most of what you have and the flared skirt can hide what you don't have. Both are very feminine."

Marvin Blair, a New York teenager, saw it just the opposite. "You really can't tell what's hiding behind those new loose fitting dresses so it might be more attractive in some cases." The argument over the chemise was not solely between the haves and the have-nots, however.

"They are really the most grotesque dresses I ever tried on," said Irene Fatilio of Cleveland. "You have to do as much as you can with what you have — and I certainly don't have much to do anything with — but why make it even worse?"

Added Mortimer Stanley of Chicago: "Let's face it, the chemise is for the birds." But even the boys seem resigned to it, like it or not.

Most would agree with Elsworth Vorhies of Boston: "Paris always has and always will dictate what women wear. Nothing I say will change it."

Parents, who usually have to foot the clothing bill, were drawn into the argument by our pollsters and seemed about equally divided between pro and anti-sack factions.

"My mother thinks the chemise is improper because when she was a girl they didn't wear anything underneath them," answered one young respondent who declined use of her name for obvious reasons.

Jill Laura of Hartford, Conn., found her parents gratefully receptive to the new fashion trend. "Mom thinks it's a lot better than the sloppy Joe sweaters and blue jeans we used to wear," said Jill. Fathers, as usual, were only amused by the whole thing. As Enid Giffire of Lafayette, La., commented: "Dad thinks they're cute. He's mad because Mom threw out all her chemise dresses 30 years ago."

Elda Nevins of Minneapolis said that the first time she brought a chemise dress home from the store, the family spent the rest of the evening reminiscing about the good old days. "My mother," she reported, "brought out the old picture album and showed some of the things she wore at my age. Almost every outfit could make the fashion magazines today."

The chemise style fared poorly in a comparison vote with the tight-fitting sheath dress and the ever popular flared skirt. Only 31 per cent of the girls and 8 per cent of the boys gave the sack style the nod over these perennial fashion favorites. As a Chicago girl explained, "the sheath makes the most of what you have and the flared skirt can hide what you don't have. Both are very feminine."

Teenager's Life Today Is No Easier Than It Ever Was

Being a teen-ager today is supposed to be a snap. Lots of privileges, lots of freedom, lots of activity—and practically no responsibilities.

But in many ways being a teen-ager is exactly the same experience as being an adolescent back in the days before the teen-age world was invented.

Girls still are so unsure of themselves and their own judgment that they can't go anywhere without calling up six other girls to make sure of what they are going to wear.

Soviet Union Unveils Technical Equipment Exhibit in Milan

MILAN, Italy (AP) — The Soviet Union has unveiled a big exhibit of technical equipment at Milan's Trade Fair, but very little of it is for sale.

The Soviet exhibit includes television equipment, special radio sets for scientific uses, cameras, and a full-scale model of Sputnik I. Alongside caviar, vodka, brandy, perfumes, books, and records are displays of instruments for atomic power plants. Big posters illustrate atomic plants under construction in Russia, an atomic powered ice breaker, and Russia's jet airliner the TU104.

An interpreter said most of the goods would be unavailable on foreign markets, partly because of present Soviet trade accords and partly because of the high prices. There was no indication of how high the prices are.

Soviet Jet Planes Take Big Orchestra To Japan to Perform

TOKYO (AP) — Two Soviet jet airliners brought the Leningrad Philharmonic Orchestra—124 strong—to Japan today for a series of performances at the Osaka International Art Festival. About 4,000 persons were at the airport to greet the Russians.

The committee for the Osaka festival renewed a proposal that American tenor Jan Peerce sing with the Leningrad Orchestra while in Osaka, but orchestra President Afansy V. Ponomarev replied:

"Our schedules here already are fixed, and we cannot accompany Mr. Peerce during our appearances in Japan. Mr. Peerce sang with us at Leningrad several times about a year ago. We are very friendly and hope to perform with him again some times."

The Philharmonic plays its first Osaka concert tomorrow.

Reds Say Artificial Arm Run by Thoughts

LONDON (AP) — Moscow Radio claimed today that Soviet scientists have made an artificial arm which is controlled by thoughts. Most artificial limbs are controlled by moving muscles.

"To perform any operation, it is enough to think the relevant movements, and the iron arm will carry them out," the broadcast said. It explained the limb "is based on the use of bio-currents which arise in human muscles in response to commands proceeding from the brain" through the preserved parts of severed muscles. It is to be shown at the Brussels World Fair this month.

Boys still are afraid to date anyone but the most popular girls, and since they can't all get dates with these choice few many of the boys never have any dates at all.

Girls still find it no easy trick to let a boy know they like him, without being so obvious about it they scare him off.

Boys who aren't football or basketball heroes still have a struggle to win a place for themselves among their contemporaries.

Girls still are so concerned with how they look that a hair-set that didn't do quite right or a dress that isn't quite perfect for the occasion can throw them into last-minute despair that ruins any chance of having fun.

Boys still have the problem of convincing their parents that they are able to take care of themselves and don't need to be constantly reminded to do this and not to do that.

Both boys and girls still feel the urgent need to belong to a group and those who are left out are just as miserable in the teen-age world as were the kids who didn't quite fit in back in the days when we called teen-age the awkward age.

Things haven't changed so much, and the years between childhood and adulthood are still no picnic.

Extension Club Meets With Nine Members

Liberty Homemakers Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. A. H. Tobaben, Route 1, Sedalia, April 9, at 1:30 p.m. with nine members and three children present.

Scripture was read followed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Roll call was answered with telling the first thing done in serving breakfast and the members found it funny to compare what each did first in getting the morning meal.

The food preparation demonstration was given by Mrs. John Brosh and Mrs. Dan Green Jr. The club voted to give $1 to the Young Homemakers School, $2 to the college of the Homemakers School and a donation to Mercy Hospital.

Three members, Miss Mamie McCormick, Mrs. Parke Green and Mrs. A. H. Tobaben went to Tipton for the county extension meeting held there at which Mrs. Paul Hiatt told of her around the world trip on which she visited 17 countries and showed colored slides taken on the trip.

A report was given of the Feb. 12 meeting at the home of Mrs. John Brosh. The business meeting was followed by singing and playing of games after which refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be May 14 at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Dan Green Jr., Route 2.

Drought and Locusts Cause Iraq Concern

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — A country-wide drought and a growing locust menace may lead to loss of wheat and barley crops worth millions of dollars, official Iraqi sources said today.

There has been no rain for weeks in northern Iraq. In the south crops are being hit by locusts.

The U. S. Embassy announced the U. S. government has offered an airlift for 25 tons of urgently needed insecticide for locust control and necessary spare parts to maintain spraying planes.

OUT OF ARMY — Donald W. Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Collins, Route 3, Sedalia, received his discharge from the army at Fort Knox, Ky., and returned to Sedalia on April 4. He has spent the last 4½ years in Germany.

Meeting of Bloomfield Sub-District MYF

The monthly meeting of the Bloomfield Sub-District MYF met at Lincoln Methodist Church on March 7. An election was held with Terry Morgan elected as president, Marcia Laird, vice-president, Donald Swearingin, secretary-treasurer, and Juanita Roberts, publicity chairman. The chairman of the different program areas were also elected.

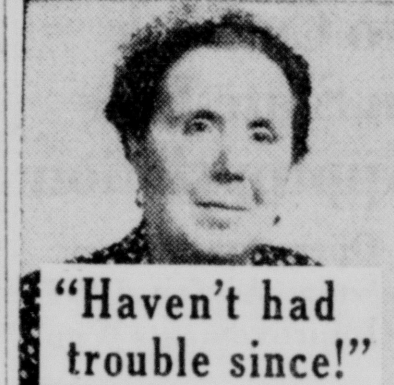

The business meeting was followed with the host church serving refreshments. A worship service based on the Easter theme followed.

The next meeting is set for May 5 at Florence. Installation of officers will be held at this meeting.

Rural Life Sunday Discussed at 4-H Meet

The April meeting of the Manila Willing Workers was held at the Manila Community Center with Owen Fox, guest speaker, giving a talk on "How to give a Demonstration".

Rural Life Sunday to be held

"Haven't had trouble since!" Regularity problems from lack of bulk? Mrs. Victoria Panzetta of Rochester, New York, writes: "I was taking all kinds of laxatives, but none seemed to help. Now I eat All-Bran and haven't had any trouble since." Kellogg's All-Bran with milk is the natural way to keep regular without habit-forming laxative drugs. Try a daily half-cup of Kellogg's All-Bran, the original whole bran cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

May 17, was discussed and also the IFYE sale. This sale will be held to raise money to send a Pettis County student to another country.

Several demonstrations and talks are planned for the next meeting which will be held May 5.

Party-Givers Seeking New Home Entertainment Ideas

Homemakers who want ideas on party planning and entertaining—a perennial problem—will find helpful suggestions in books at the Sedalia Public Library. Party-givers searching for new ideas on home entertaining keep books on this subject moving briskly.

"Time for a Party," by Ruth Brent, one of the best and most comprehensive of the new guides, emphasizes the importance of planning in giving successful parties. The author gives complete instructions for planning a buffet supper, afternoon teas, cocktail parties, a birthday party, a shower, a housewarming, and many other types of parties.

Other helpful books on entertaining include "Home Entertaining," by Charlotte Adams; "Successful Entertaining at Home," by Carolyn Coggins, and "The Hostess Manual," by Marguerite Kohl.

Ideas and suggestions for setting the table are covered in Amelia Leavitt Hill's "The Complete Book of Table Setting," Dorothy Bidle's "Book of Table Setting," and Helen Sprackling's "Setting Your Table."

Suggestions for interesting and attractive table flower arrangements can also be obtained. Two of the most recent titles are Rae Goldson's "Contemporary Flower Arrangement," and Patricia Roberts' "Book of Table Arrangements." Other books are available which cover flower arranging for both everyday and special occasions.

Food is always a matter of concern for the hostess and cook books at the library will provide suggestions for menus and recipes. Especially helpful are such titles as "Anybody Can Cook," by Gwen French; "Entertaining Singlehanded," by Elinor Milnor Parker, and Lucy Allen's "Book of Hors d'oeuvres."

In addition to the above material, the library also has books on planning games and stunts for adult and children's parties.

Heibners Return From Vacation in the South

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Heibner, Cole Camp, returned home April 2, after spending 23 days touring the south. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Mueller, Fremont, Nebr.

They went to Memphis, Tenn., on east to Chattanooga and Lookout Mountain, Tenn., and then to Atlanta and Augusta, Ga. where they met Dr. and Mrs. M. P. Dommers, Belvidere, Ill. Mrs. Dommers was entered in the Titleholders golf tournament in Augusta, Ga. after some time in Savannah, Ga., they traveled down the east coast of Florida to Key West.

After returning to Miami they traveled aboard the Arosa Star to Nassau, in the Bahamas, and on to Havana, Cuba, again returning to Miami. They then went to St. Petersburg, and up the west coast of Florida on to Mobile, Ala., where they toured the Bellingrath Gardens. They returned through New Orleans and traveled a total of 4,240 miles by car and 755 miles by sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Mueller left April 3, for Kansas City, and returned to Fremont.

FIRST MATE, FIRST LOVE—From the time he was a little boy in Charleston, W.Va., Clark Hawley dreamed of playing the calliope, the musical trademark of inland waterways steamers. He'd sit for hours on the landing and listen to the oom-pah-pah of the "cally-ope" floating from the decks of the Avalon and Majestic which stopped in Charleston each summer. At night he would practice on the family parlor organ, imitating the style of the calliope player on such tunes as "Cruising Down the River," and "Alexander's Ragtime Band." In 1953 he jumped at an invitation to take an Ohio River cruise on the Avalon. But for "cally-ope" lover Clark it was a sad day. No music. No crew member could play the calliope. Clark volunteered and from that day on he has spent every excursion season aboard the Avalon. Now at 22 he is believed to be the youngest first mate on the Mississippi River system. Although his new duties keep him quite busy, he still manages (above) to find time occasionally to beat out a tune on the 32 battered steam-whistles of the Avalon's calliope.

Busy Summer Planned For 4-H'ers of Moniteau County

Moniteau County 4-H'ers are planning a busy summer as announced at County 4-H Council meeting last week. The first event will be observation of 4-H Sunday, May 11 and that will be followed by 4-H Market Day later in the month. Four 4-H members from Moniteau County will be named to attend State 4-H Club Week at Columbia in June.

A big event for 4-H'ers in Moniteau County is the county-wide 4-H Club picnic followed by the Share-the-Fun program and then 4-H Camp which begins June 29. Moniteau County 4-H'ers look forward to participation in various fairs. Last year the Flying Eagles 4-H Club at Tipton rated a blue ribbon on their booth display on the IFYE program at the State Fair. A nice cash award accompanied the blue ribbon.

The 4-H program is social science in its truest form. Participation in demonstrations, talks, Share-the-Fun, and judging gives the boy or girl the opportunity to gain confidence in himself and to understand the feeling of others. In 4-H competition, the winner is a successful friend. His fellow members recognize him, not with jealousy or malice, but with congratulations.

"Leathernecks"

"Leathernecks," nickname for men of the U.S. Marine Corps, came from a black leather stock, part of the early uniform worn to keep a fighter from getting his throat slit by the whistling sweep of a snickersnee.

Awaiting Transfer

Airman Vernon R. Means, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Means, 1706 South Marvin, is now at the U. S. Naval Station, Norfolk, Va., awaiting transfer.

The Norfolk Naval Receiving Station, commanded by Capt. E. B. Pugsley, U.S.N., processed approximately 8,000 men a month on their way to and from naval activities all over the world.

They Helped

The University of Chicago was built largely through the efforts of two Ohioans: William Rainey Harper, of New Concord, and John D. Rockefeller, of Cleveland.

Fifty-three per cent of the Americans who travel abroad are women, and the largest number are under 30, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Sacred Heart

Juniors Hold Record Hop To Raise '58 Prom Fund

By Jim Couhig
The juniors held a Record Hop Monday night in the local auditorium. A large crowd attended the Hop whose purpose was to raise sufficient funds for the Junior-Senior Prom.

The food, decoration, and programming committees for the Junior-Senior Prom held important meetings last week. Chairmen for the various groups are the following: Carolyn Wiemholt, food; Marge Hogan, decorations; and John Martin, programs.

School was dismissed in both the grade and high school last Friday and Monday for the Easter holidays.

The Moths, perennial champions of the Sacred Heart Bowling League, won first place as the season came to a close following completion of last Wednesday's games. Mike Edwards won the Boys' High Series with a 312 and the High Game with a 159. Martha Berlin took the Girls' High Series by bowling a 258 while Carolyn Wiemholt, with 140 pins, captured the Girls High Game. The league was a successful one and was enjoyed by all who participated in it.

Tryouts are being held for the LaMonte Commercial Contest on April 25. Anyone interested in trying out for the contest please contact Sister Louis.

The selection of plays, characters, and directors is in full progress for the Intramural Play Contest May 11.

WSCS, Service Guild Honored With Tea

Monday evening, April 7, at 8 o'clock a recognition tea was held in Wesley Hall of the Windsor Methodist Church honoring the WSCS and Wesleyan Service Guild members.

Mrs. Keith Frost, vice-president of the WSCS, was program chairman. The girls' trio from the high school presented two numbers. The group was accompanied by Mrs. James O. Fellers.

Mrs. L. T. Hoback presented Mrs. B. M. Campbell with a life membership pin.

Mrs. John H. Carter presented corsages for missions to those who have given services in the field of church activities carried on by the WSCS.

Mrs. Harris Douglas of the Wesleyan Service Guild presented corsages to Mrs. N. J. Wilkerson and Mrs. Maurice Harris.

Mrs. Ernest Martin gave the names of those who have been honored previously by receiving life membership pins.

A social hour followed with Mrs. Martin, Mrs. W. R. Butts and Mrs. Fellers serving.

Sunrise Services Held At Blackwater Church

Easter sunrise services were held at six o'clock at the Federated Church in Blackwater with the pastor, the Rev. N. O. Wetherell delivering the message. Special music consisted of a solo by Miss Gayle Heim. Her accompanist was Miss Peggy Vernon. The choir under the direction of Mrs. Joe McCuskey, sang the Song of Triumph with Mrs. John R. Sims at the piano. A communion service was held also. Following the services a ham breakfast was held in the church dining room.

Can't Solve His Own

Doctor of Parking Solves Problems for Many Cities

WASHINGTON (NEA) Wm. G. Barr has solved the parking of several million persons but can't solve his own.

Bill is a friendly, strapping family man who likes nothing better than to park himself at home. But since he has become known to city officials as the country's No. 1 "doctor of parking" he hasn't had time to stay put.

As executive director of the National Parking Association he's on constant call to go to any city — for free — which needs his expert diagnosis of that city's parking pains. In the past year he has helped cure the parking aches of close to 100 cities. And an additional 100 towns are on his "urgent" waiting list.

"The first job is to help a city determine whether or not it is properly using the parking facilities that it has," he explains.

This he does by recruiting Boy Scouts, civic groups and police to survey the daily usage of a city's parking facilities.

"And almost invariably we find that the 'meter feeder' is the germ that causes much of the parking sickness in downtown areas," he says.

In Charleston, N. C., for example, the downtown merchants were complaining that the lack of parking was hurting their business. But Bill's survey revealed that close to half of the available curb parking downtown was being monopolized by clerks of these stores and the owners, feeding the meters all day.

"The short-time parker downtown is the big spender," he says, "and should get priority for the available spaces."

When the downtown employees were shown adequate parking areas just off the main business streets, leaving the most desirable parking for the shoppers, business boomed.

"Sometimes we find that a city's trouble is too many parking places and not enough parkers," Bill explains.

This he discovered in Spokane, Wash., for example. "The people just didn't know where the parking places were," he says. He helped lick this one with an education campaign and street signs pointing to parking lots.

In Tucson, Ariz., his survey revealed what appeared to be a hopeless situation. There just did not seem to be adequate space downtown. So his answer to this was a plan to park on the fringes of shopping areas using public transportation to the downtown stores. This has been successful.

Here in Washington Barr and his National Parking Association have helped organize a successful system whereby the stores, theaters, restaurants and even the doctors and dentists pay for one or more hours of parking on a lot, depending on the size of a purchase.

Cities with the most acute parking problems are those which had populations of around 20,000 persons in 1930 and have since doubled or tripled in size, he has discovered.

"In these cities the recent growth of buildings and activity has left little room for parking areas, for some reason," he says.

In towns where the downtown merchants are trying to compete with the suburban areas with free parking, Bill recommends that they stay open three or four nights a week.

In the suburban shopping centers 70 per cent of the business is done at night," he explains, "so staying open at night, too, is just a way for the downtown stores to compete."

Night shopping is a major trend spreading all over the U. S., he has found, providing the most efficient use of available parking spaces.

Eldon Lions Club Sets Benefit Concert

The Eldon Lions Club is sponsoring a benefit concert at the new Eldon High School gymnasium Tuesday night, April 22, at which Harry James will present his Music Makers. The Harry James orchestra is making a short visit to Missouri and the Eldon Lions were successful in scheduling him for this city.

The nation's number one trumpeter is dividing his time between personal appearances, radio, picture commitments and television. The Music Makers have been steadily breaking attendance records as their schedule of programs progress across the nation.

MoPac Gives Retired Worker a Wristwatch

Joe W. Brereton, 1008 South Missouri, retired sheetmetal worker for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, was recently presented a wristwatch from fellow workers at the Kansas City shops.

Brereton, who began working for the Missouri Pacific Railroad in 1924, worked for the Wabash Railroad from 1926 to 1942 in Detroit, Mich., then returned to the Missouri Pacific. He worked at the Sedalia shops until he was transferred to the Kansas City shops, where he worked until he suffered a heart attack in April, 1937.

Since his illness, Brereton has devoted his time to his hobbies including customizing gun stocks, wrapping fishing rods and gardening. He received his retirement in February, 1938.

New Agricultural Building

This architect's sketch shows the proposed addition to the existing Agricultural Laboratories Building on the University of Missouri campus, says John H. Longwell, dean of the University's College of Agriculture. The new building will contain about 30,000 square feet of floor space on three floors and is to be added to the west and south sides of the present building at Hitt and Rollins Street in Columbia. It will house offices, classrooms, and research laboratories of the School of Forestry and the departments of horticulture and entomology as well as administrative offices of the University's Division of Agricultural Sciences. Funds for construction of the building were made available from the University's share of the $75 million Missouri building bond issue.

Say Police Are Underpaid

Teenagers Insist Cop Is Their Friend But The Will Have No y Part of His Job

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of Gilbert Youth Research Co.

The nation's teenagers have a great respect for the cop on the beat, but few want to follow in his footsteps.

In our latest nationwide survey, 92 per cent of those queried said they respect the policeman on their block; 84 per cent think policemen are honest, and 75 per cent believe they are fair. Yet, only 7 per cent said they would like to become a policeman or policewoman. On all questions, the results were about the same for boys and girls.

"The policeman represents the law of our government and country and he should be respected," said Carolyn Messina, 16, of Flushing, N. Y. Lynda Epstein of Syracuse, N. Y., commented: "He upholds the law and stands for justice."

Poor Pay The Rub

Among the few who said they don't respect policemen came these comments: "A policeman is too impressed by his own authority"—Douglas Merchant, 17, of Ilion, N. Y. "I consider him an occupational hazard," — a 16-year-old Massachusetts boy who declined to give his occupation. "They give me traffic tickets," was the reason a 17-year-old from Kansas City gave for not thinking policemen are fair. He obviously was speaking from experience.

A 16-year-old Iowa youth summed up the main reasons the teenagers overwhelmingly rejected police work as a career when he said:

"Police are underpaid, have bad hours and the job is dangerous." A 17-year-old Kansas City lad who wants to be a policeman, had an entirely different view. "It's a soft job that pays off and is easy going," he said.

However, 79 per cent of the teens agreed that most policemen in the country are underpaid.

Cops Are Friends

Our survey also explored other feelings the young people had about policemen, with some 83 per cent of them felt that policemen are interested in teenagers.

"I think policemen give special attention and interest toward trying to help teenagers do the right thing," said a 15-year-old New York City girl.

"He is always courteous and careful. Also he is quite patient," said Louise Sherman, 15, of the policeman on her block in Yonkers, New York.

Asked if they thought police sometimes use brutal methods, only 19 per cent of the teenagers answered yes. In fact, 39 per cent said they thought police generally were too soft.

"It has never been proved that police use brutal methods," said a 16-year-old Denver girl.

Gloria Schate, 17, of Forest Hills, N. Y., said: "I don't think many things are handled correctly, but no brutality." Some comments from the minority were:

"They do use brutal methods to obtain their own ends," — a 17-year-old Lancaster, Pa., boy.

"Yes. One hit me," — a Jacksonville, Fla., youth.

Keep Those Clubs

Most of the 39 per cent who think policemen are too soft, cited their attitude toward juvenile delinquents.

"Perhaps, in some cases, tighter control might help discourage juvenile delinquency," explained Don Lawrence, 17, of Baltimore.

"If police were a little more respected like years ago when they weren't afraid to hit kids doing something wrong, maybe it would be better," — a 17-year-old San Francisco girl.

"It takes discipline to teach. Some people have to learn the hard way," — Joan Palumbo, 15, of Tuckahoe, N. Y.

A young woman from Lincoln, Neb., thinks "dope addicts and other such criminals should be treated harder," and a 17-year-old Teaneck, N. J., girl feels "they should bear down more on driving." But Peggy Weil of Louisville, Ky., asserted: "They don't let you get away with anything."

How do the teenagers feel about some towns taking night sticks away from their policemen? Seventy-four per cent replied they do not like the idea.

"If policemen have fewer weapons to defend themselves," said a Nebraska girl, "people are likely to take advantage of them."

A Kansas City youth said: "The sticks should not be taken away, because they then would have only guns to deal with juveniles."

Our final question concerned the relative effectiveness of the cop on the beat and the one in the patrol car. The answers were fairly evenly divided.

Fifty-one per cent said the patrol car is more effective, 43 per cent favored the beat and 6 per cent had no ideas on the subject.

Successful Rose Growers Follow Certain Standards

By Mrs. P. L. Strole
Sedalia Rose Society

Roses mean affection. They have been loved and cultivated down through the ages. Many people have the idea that roses are hard to grow, but they are not, providing a few simple rules are followed. Learn the grade of roses before buying. There are certain standards that are established by the American Association of Nurserymen as follows:

In the hybrid tea class there is the grade 1, which should show at least three strong canes with branches averaging 18 to 20 inches from the bud union to the tips. Grade 1½ is slightly short. Grade 2 still shorter.

The new grandifloras are graded in the same manner as the hybrid tea roses.

The floribundas have grade 1, which are 12 to 15 inches high, three or more canes with branches. Grade 1½ has two canes 12 to 14 inches in height.

The best quality climbers are in grade 1, only, and have three or four good canes with many small branches, 12 inches and over.

The wisest choice is always a grade 1 rose, as it will develop to a good plant. Best buys in rose bushes are at least two-year-old, field grown, dormant stocks. Roots and tops are trimmed for lighter weight in shipping.

Hybrid tea roses are probably the best loved and most frequently grown. They have a wider color range. However, floribundas are becoming popular in this area. The hybrid teas must always be budded for show purposes to have the best type of bloom and stem.

Floribundas and polyanthas are smaller flowered, low growing roses that bloom in clusters and singly throughout the growing season. They have traits of hardiness and disease resistance of their ancestors.

Polyanthas are old times, producing small 1½ to 2-inch blooms in large clusters. Their color range is limited.

Floribundas were introduced in 1924, produced by cross breeding hybrid teas and polyanthus. The color selection is now just as wide as the hybrid teas. They make good foundation plantings, blended with shrubs.

Grandifloras are the newest class to be introduced. They are a cross section between floribundas and hybrid teas, combinations of the best features of the parent plants are produced. They are vigorous growers and best used for background planting. The blooms are in clusters and singly on long stems and are slightly smaller than the hybrid teas. They share the same perfection of flower form and bud. They have the ever-blooming habits, hardiness and disease resistance of the older roses.

Climbers are found in the hybrid tea and floribunda classes and most of the varieties do well in this climate.

The miniature roses are fascinating. Their tiny leaf, thorn, bud and flower are novel and it is used best in low borders and edging. Moisture has to be present all the time, requiring water more often than the big roses.

Desire To Help Young Mothers Is Orgin Of Local Business

Mrs. Gladys Moore

It was back in 1949 that Gladys Moore began thinking of the need in Sedalia for a maternity shop. She was a saleslady in Burton's Ready-to-Wear Store, when it was located in the 200 block on South Ohio, and when young expectant mothers kept coming into the store asking for maternity dresses which the store didn't have, Mrs. Moore felt an urge to do something to help these youngsters.

There was spare time on her hands now. Her daughter was in nurses training and her son in service, so the demand on her time was not so great. She and her husband, William J. Moore, who was a Missouri Pacific Shop employee, were home most of the time and she began making maternity dresses in her home.

Her first customer was a ballerina dancer from Hollywood whose husband sold jewelry and who had come back to Sedalia to have her child.

Mrs. Moore kept making maternity dresses and would take the girls to her home to see them. If she didn't have what they wanted, she made special orders for them, and always in the back of her mind was the idea of starting a maternity shop. But she kept on working at Burton's.

She began looking around for a storeroom to rent to start her shop and had one place practically rented when the owner thought a maternity business wouldn't last and wouldn't let her have the place. Almost everyone discouraged her, but she felt as though, with so many calls for maternity dresses, it was certain of success. Too, they had them in other towns.

It was in March, 1951, that she was able to find a place on West Second, in the 100 block where the Donut Shop is now. The store room was six feet wide and forty feet long.

She called her new business the Gla-Da-Mo Shop.

Mrs. Moore found that the store-room she had rented was pretty small, when she put her machine on one side and a rack on the other. In fact, when she was at her machine, nobody could get through.

She just had to make a go of her new business, so she added lingerie to her stock, and then she decided to do alterations and tailoring. She found she had so much business she couldn't take care of it alone, so she bought two new machines and hired two seamstresses. Well, if that little place was crowded before, it was really tight now, so she started looking for a larger place. Then Del moved his key shop to his home and she was able to rent the location where they now are at 116 West Third.

To cut the cost of labor her husband, who is a cabinet maker at the Missouri Pacific Shops, built dressing rooms and all the fixtures. Now she could carry a larger stock of maternity wear and had room, too, for infants wear.

The alteration and tailoring continued to grow, so another machine was added, making four. By this time, their son, Don, was out of service, and came into the business, too, to do tailoring.

The demands for maternity wear and infants wear kept increasing and so they were getting crowded again. This time they put in knotty pine walls and fixtures. Then they rented the building at 122 West Third which is two doors west and put the alterations and tailoring there with Don in charge. But a short time later her husband had an idea, too. He felt she had been working long enough, both of them had, and it was time to retire.

Mrs. Moore thought it over. It sounded good, so, they sold the Gla-Da-Mo Shop to Don and his

4-H Poultry Workers in Line For Cash Pries

Missouri 4-H poultry demonstrators will have a chance at cash prizes as well as blue ribbons this fall at State 4-H Achievement Day.

A 108 dollar surplus from the recent Missouri Egg and Poultry Shippers Association Convention has been earmarked for this purpose according to John Burkholder, University of Missouri Extension State 4-H Agent.

The money was donated to Missouri 4-H Foundation with the request that it be applied to incentives for poultry work in 4-H. In line with that request the money will be awarded winners in poultry demonstrations at State 4-H Achievement Day.

Walter Russell and Glenn Geiger, Extension poultry specialists say that demonstrations to be considered for cash winnings have been listed. They include demonstrations on vaccinating, debeaking, egg washing, chemical canning, and heat lamp brooding of chicks.

First IFYE Delegate Leaves Soon

Missouri's participation in the International Farm Youth Exchange program got underway Sunday as the first delegate left home.

Rosemary Weiss, Cape Girardeau, left April 6 for delegate orientation in Washington, D. C. After a week's briefing in the nation's capital, Miss Weiss will board ship for France April 16.

From France, Missouri's first delegate will head by train for a six-month tour of the Netherlands as part of a national youth effort to promote good will.

Two and possibly three other Missouri young people will travel to other countries this summer as part of the IFYE program.

Beir Hammond, Trenton, is scheduled to leave for Germany in early June, and David Hunter, of Louisiana, Mo., will travel to Pakistan late in August. One other Missouri IFYE delegate may be selected.

The International Farm Youth Exchange program is directed by National 4-H Foundation and Co-operative Extension Service.

National 4-H Delegates Names

Missouri's delegates to the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C. have been named today by Robert S. Clough, University of Missouri extension state 4-H leader. The 28th annual conference is set for June 14-20 in the nation's capital.

Delegates named are Elizabeth Novinger, University freshman; Katherine Lacey, Ulrich, Central Missouri State College senior; Bob Teegarden, University junior from Braymer; and Larry Rosenbohm from Graham, a Northwest Missouri State College sophomore.

These four are Missouri's best in 4-H leadership and will be a

Homemakers Hold Annual Mother-Daughter Meeting

By Bill Heiss
The Smith-Cotton Future Homemakers of America held their annual Mother-Daughter Tea Thursday, April 10, in the Senior High Study Hall. Nona Payne, president, greeted the mothers and daughters present. The sponsors, Mrs. Maddox, Mrs. McKee, and Miss Wolfrum, were introduced and a "Tribute to Mothers" was given by Virginia Hilton. The highlight of an interesting program was "Careers in Home Economics," presented by Miss Baker, head of the home economics department at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and assisted by Betty LaRue, Janice Robinson, Nancy Windsor, Cynthia Burns. A "trip" into outer space was presented, illustrating the advantages and future in home economics careers. Refreshments were served by Nancy Fricke and Carol Hyatt.

The Future Homemakers of America of the Sedalia Chapter elected Carol Shirley and Carolyn Staley Future Homemakers to attend the state meeting in Jefferson City Saturday, April 12. Missouri has over 13,000 members in the Future Homemakers of America organization. Mrs. Maddox, Smith-Cotton adviser, and Miss Wolfrum, were to accompany the girls.

The Future Nurses Club met this past week for their regular meeting which was presided over by their president, Carol Hyatt. Mrs. Camel talked to the group on the GEM program which is a baby sitting program. The group at this meeting picked out their pins.

The tickets for the Senior High intramural plays will go on sale Monday, April 14. This annual affair at Smith-Cotton is showing great promise and the play cast from each class have been working hard on their plays. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the senior, junior or sophomore classes.

Campaign speeches for president of Senior student council were made last Monday. The candidates are Gary Cristian and Pat Schriener. Their campaign managers are: for Gary Cristian, Bob Vedder, and for Pat Schriener, Priscilla Scott and Kit Taylor. Both candidates presented plans for better school government and cooperation between the students and the faculty. Posters are all over the school and the election, which is Tuesday, April 15, promises to be close.

• Other Fires

A fire of undetermined origin brought the Pettis County Fire Department into action about 4:45 p. m. Thursday. The fire started in a chicken house being used to store straw on property owned by Mrs. Henry Schaefer and occupied by Phillip C. Jones on the Water Works Road south of Sedalia.

Mrs. Lujin reported that she was halfway across the street when the light changed. She said she saw the truck coming and thought that it was going to hit her. She threw her arm out to protect herself, she said, and tried to jump out of the way.

She said that the truck didn't actually hit her, but that it did clip her arm as it went by and almost threw her to the pavement. The driver of the truck said that he was waiting for the green light and as soon as it changed he started across the intersection. He said that he didn't see the woman until she was right in front of him.

Mrs. Lujin received severe bruises of her left arm from the wrist to the elbow. X-rays taken by Dr. A. L. Lowe revealed that there were no bones broken.

T-Sgt. James C. Burgess, 23, Whiteman AFB, who resides at the Knob Noster Trailer Court, escaped with a minor scratch on his head when his car overturned on the Thompson curve, Highway 50, west of LaMonte late Thursday night.

According to Trooper Richard Joos, State Highway Patrol, Burgess was headed west on the highway when the car went off on the south shoulder as the car rounded the west curve. The car traveling over 200 feet crashed into a telephone pole and rolled over on its top.

The car a 1958 Chevrolet sedan was extensively damaged as it rolled, both sides and the top of the body of the car were smashed. Trooper Joos reported Burgess was not injured sufficiently to need hospitalization. He was given a Highway Patrol summons to appear before Magistrate Frank T. Armstrong.

Mrs. Shirley Jane Giesel, Chicago, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless and imprudent driving by failing to maintain control of her car and allowing it to run into a road grader. The incident occurred April 9 on Highway 50 near the Johnson-Pettis County line. She was fined $25 and costs.

Fayburn M. Henderson, Kansas City, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless and imprudent driving by passing another vehicle on a hill where the view ahead was obstructed, and was fined $25 and costs. He was stopped by the Highway Patrol west of Sedalia on Highway 50 April 2, while driving a bus loaded with school children.

French Paper Has Retort For President

PARIS (AP)—The newspaper Le Monde suggested today that President Eisenhower keep some of his common sense for U. S. consumption.

The paper added that many nations export too much of this valuable commodity. The paper was commenting on Eisenhower's letter to Premier Felix Gaillard urging him to use common sense in France's present dispute with Tunisia. In sarcastic vein, editorialist Robert Escarpit wrote:

"No one will be surprised to know that common sense is the best shared commodity in the world when one sees the haste with which nations export the little they possess."

"Thus, President Eisenhower has just sent M. Felix Gaillard a letter full of appeals for common sense. I don't know what the American production of that precious commodity may be, but I hope that enough is still left in the White House cupboards, on one hand for internal consumption, and, on the other, for an emergency shipment to Tunisia. For our part, we will not fail to offer the United States all the available parts of our own stock the next time Washington encounters economic or diplomatic difficulties."

"I will merely mention the Russian common sense, for which (Soviet Premier Nikita) Khrushchev is the traveling salesman. 'As for the British common sense, it is like British cooking. One must be born a citizen of the Commonwealth to appreciate properly its savor, but the British would not be worthy of their mercantile tradition if they did not succeed in exporting some of it, after all."

"Here we have a common market on a world scale. Faced with such a traffic of raw material, we can well ask ourselves why the world is not more wise."

Man Charged in Rape Case Escapes From Jail Juvenile Room

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP)—Joe Lester Slayton, charged with raping the girl companion of a high school football star killed in a lovers lane, escaped from Scott County Jail early today.

Slayton, 17, with the help of an unidentified 16-year-old companion, tore up a metal bed and pried open the bars of the juvenile detention room of the jail.

Slayton, of Chaffee, Mo., implicated Lynn Wayne Hester, 18, of St. Louis. Authorities said Hester has orally admitted the fatal shooting of John A. Malugen of Charleston, Mo., Jan. 5, 1957.

Hester denied raping Malugen's girl companion, who now lives in Memphis. Authorities said Slayton has admitted raping the girl.

A preliminary hearing for Slayton was scheduled for Tuesday before Judge M. E. Montgomery in Magistrate Court at Sikeston.

Soviet Writer Says Women Doing Men's Work, Vice Versa

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet writer suggested today that too many Russian women are doing men's work, and vice versa.

Writing in the Literary Gazette, Vladimir Nemtsov recommended that the Labor Protection Division of Soviet Trade Unions determine whether labor managers are misusing female labor.

In many cases, Nemtsov said, women are assigned to such heavy jobs as lugging bricks, railway ties, and rails, while men are working in the kitchens.

He declared that a nation which produced such a modern miracle as the Sputnik should be able to bring its utilization of labor up to date.

Outbreak of Polio

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British army headquarters reported today an outbreak of polio among British troops and their families in the Limassol district of west Cyprus.

Five adults and three children have been admitted to the Royal Air Force Hospital at Akrotiri. Several cases also have been reported among Cypriots.

Police Find Couple Dead in Apartment; Murder-Suicide Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Police entered the apartment of a man and woman last night and found them shot to death in what the coroner's office called an apparent murder-suicide.

Dead were Thomas E. Freshouer, 36, a shop foreman for the Tulane University maintenance department, and a woman identified as his wife, Shirley, 25.

Detectives Edwin Klein and Walter Holmes said Mrs. Freshouer's body was slumped in a chair, two bullet wounds in the left side of her chest and a .45 caliber automatic pistol in her lap.

Freshouer, shot in the right temple, was sprawled on the floor at his wife's feet.

In Lancaster, Pa., court records showed a Thomas E. Freshouer was providing financial support for a woman, apparently his wife, and four children. He moved to Lancaster from Toledo, Ohio.

They were identified as Mrs. Alice Freshouer, and her children, Thomas E., 7; Ellen, 5; and twin daughters, Jane and Alice, born July 10, 1956.

West German Steel Workers Approve Hike

ESSEN, Germany (AP)—West German steel workers have agreed to accept pay raises of about 3.6 per cent and call off a threatened strike of the world's third largest steel industry.

Union members among the 200,000 workers split about evenly yesterday in a vote on accepting the industry's counter offer to their demands for 10 per cent raises. A 75 per cent vote against the agreement reached by union leaders was needed to overturn it.

OBITUARIES

Frank Leslie Neitzert

Frank Leslie Neitzert, 76, prominent resident of Knob Noster, died at the family home there at 11:45 a.m. Saturday following an illness of five months.

He was the son of the late Frederick Augustus and Sarah Frances Neitzert, born at Ottumwa on Oct. 8, 1881. In 1902 the family moved to a farm southeast of Knob Noster.

He attended the Art Student League School in New York in 1911 and 1912.

On May 3, 1916, he was married to Lula Mahin. After their marriage they made their home on a farm in the Knob Noster vicinity.

Mr. Neitzert served as Postmaster at Knob Noster from 1922 until 1934 after which they moved to Camdenton to reside.

In 1942 they returned to Knob Noster to make their home. With the opening of the Sedalia Army Air Field, now Whiteman AFB, he was appointed as Postmaster of the base post office and held this position for four years.

From 1950 until 1957 he owned and operated a recreation hall in Knob Noster.

He was a member of the Knob Noster Presbyterian Church, the Masonic Lodge 245, A.F. & A.M., and the Knob Noster Eastern Star Chapter 106.

Surviving is his wife of the home and one son, Chester Neitzert of Coldwater, Mich. Also four grandchildren, two brothers, Fred Neitzert of Knob Noster and Harry Neitzert of Windsor.

Funeral arrangements will not be made until after the arrival of his son.

Woodrow James

Woodrow James, 39, Polo, Mo., died Saturday morning at the Veterans' Hospital in Kansas City. He was born August 27, 1918, in Gravois Mills, son of William Oliver and Molinda Silvey James.

Survivors include: his wife, Lela Mae, one daughter, Miss Cynthia Faye James, two sons, Darrell Lee and Kenneth Lyle James, all of the home; his mother, Mrs. Molinda James, Versailles, two sisters, Mrs. R. E. Carpenter, Overland Park, Kan., Paulene James, Versailles; two brothers, John W. James, Versailles and Donan K. James, Kansas City, Kan.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Versailles Baptist Church with the Rev. Lloyd Johnson officiating.

Burial will be in the Stover Cemetery, Stover, Mo.

The body is at the Kidwell Funeral Home in Versailles.

Herbert Emmet Jackson

Herbert Emmet Jackson, 78, died Friday, April 11, at his home in Ottumwa.

He was born June 21, 1879, in Tipton, son of the late Herbert and Maggie Clark Jackson. He married Miss Maude Hogan in 1906. He was a carpenter and retired two years ago because of illness. He was a member of the Taylor Chapel Methodist Church in Ottumwa.

Survivors include his wife of the home, a son, Herbert E. Jackson; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Taylor Chapel Methodist Church with the Rev. J. E. Gilliam of Sedalia officiating.

Pallbearers will be Everett Morney, Bill Porter, Harve Points, George Finley, Dan Bell, and Ogden Lacy.

Burial will be in the Ottumwa Cemetery.

Mrs. Anna Gertrude Woods Rites

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Gertrude Woods, who died at her home in Kansas City on April 8, were held at Burns Chapel Free Will Baptist Church at 2 p.m. Saturday with the Rev. W. L. Jackson officiating.

Six nephews, William and Lloyd Cole, Harold and Howard Williams, J. D. Quantrell and F. D. Gilmore, served as pallbearers.

Mrs. Woods was survived by three brothers, William Duval, Colorado Spring, Colo.; George M. Duval, Los Angeles, Calif.; and Harrison Duval of Chicago, Ill.; one uncle, Albert Anderson and one aunt, Mrs. Emma Jackson, both of Sedalia.

Burial was in the Crown Hill Cemetery annex.

Mrs. Kathleen Young

Mrs. Kathleen Young, 217 West Cooper, died at the Bothwell Hospital at 1:15 a.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Young was born in Osceola, the daughter of the late Simpson and Florence Younger. A graduate of Lincoln High, now C. C. Hubbard High School, and of Langston University in Oklahoma, she taught school in Guthrie, Okla., for several years. Since 1923 she had lived in Sedalia.

On July 27, 1913, she was married to A. R. Young, who survives. She was preceded in death by a daughter, Florine Young, in 1940.

Survivors include her husband, A. R. Young of the home; four sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Simmons, Sedalia, Mrs. Myrtle Mitchell, Wichita, Kas., Jennie Brashier Henderson, and Mrs. Theodora Telford, both of Kansas City; two brothers, Douglas Younger of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Joseph Younger of St. Louis. A brother, Charles Younger, died in 1952.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete. The body is at the Alexander Funeral Home.

Mrs. Fonzo Viola Flessa

Mrs. Fonzo Viola Flessa, 80, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edith Russell, in Russellville. Her husband, Adam Flessa, preceded her in death about a year ago.

One daughter, Edith, and a grandson, Lowell Flessa, survive. Funeral services, held Wednesday, were attended by Mrs. R. L. Hogan, Mrs. L. R. Raines, and Mrs. R. N. Battles, all of Sedalia who were nieces of Mrs. Flessa.

Mrs. Anna D. Lurner

Mrs. Anna D. Lurner, a former resident of Sedalia, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Macklin, 8006 Vernon Ave., Chicago, Ill., Friday morning.

She had been a life long resident of Sedalia and had made her home in Chicago for the past four years. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ellis and was a retired school teacher.

Besides Mrs. Macklin, she is survived by five grandchildren, four nieces and two nephews.

The body will arrive in Sedalia at 12 o'clock noon Tuesday and will be taken to the Ferguson Funeral Home to await completion of funeral arrangements.

James Reed Irey

James Reed Irey, 59, died at 3:30 a.m. Saturday at the home of his son, James Irey, near Latham.

Mr. Irey and his wife had been living in the home of their son for the past five months because of his illness following a stroke.

Mr. Irey was born near Latham on March 29, 1899, the son of the late Joseph and Bee Hyatt Irey. He was married to Florence Allee in April, 1924, and she survives.

Also surviving are: three sons, James and Dean Irey, near Latham, and Donald Irey, Kansas City; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Lee Bell, Kansas City; a brother, Nick Irey, near Tipton; a sister, Mrs. C. P. McBroom, near Fortuna; and five grandchildren.

Two brothers, George and John Irey, and two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Fuiks and Mrs. Cora Hill, preceded him in death.

He was a member of the Green Grove Baptist Church near Latham, where funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday.

Burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body is at the Williams Funeral Home.

No Outback

Fifth on property acquired by the State of Missouri several months ago, just east of the Old Missouri Homestead, was also appropriated. Just when construction will be started was not definitely known, but it will be in the very near future. The State Employment Service at present has rented office space above the Safeway store at Fifth and Ohio.

With no hike in the fair operations appropriation, it was announced that for economic purposes the position of chief clerk at the fair is abolished by John Sam Williams, commissioner of agriculture. In place of the chief clerk, the department of agriculture will divide this work with a representative who will spend at least one week a month at the fair grounds and the remainder of his time with the grain department in Kansas City and at the department of agriculture in Jefferson City.

This change is effective as of Tuesday, April 15. Joseph Byrne, who has been chief clerk since early in 1947, has been transferred back to his home town of Kansas City. Byrne will be with the state revenue department there.

Annual Concert

"Mr. Mason Himself"

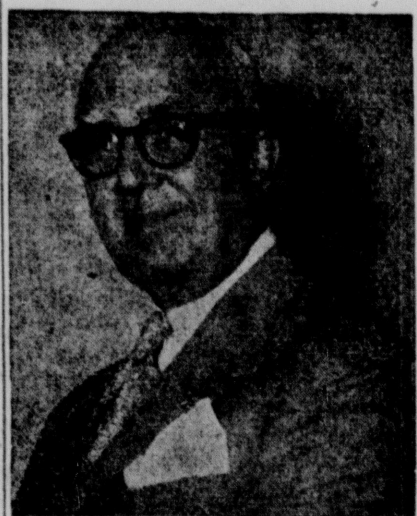

Founder of DeMolay
To Be Speaker Here

Frank S. Land, Kansas City, founder of the Order of DeMolay, will be the guest speaker at the Sedalia Scottish Rite Club prospect dinner which will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Wesley Methodist Church.

Known as "Mr. Mason Himself," Land is the most popular Mason in the world. In October, 1955, he was recipient of the Grand Cross of Honor by Supreme Council 33 degree, A. & A. S. R., Southern Jurisdiction, a rare honor that few have received in the history of the Scottish Rite. He was 65 years old at that time and the youngest man ever to receive the Grand Cross.

Land is a past imperial potentate of the Shrine, the present grand orator of the Grand Imperial Council, Red Cross of Constantine; recipient of the first International Gold "Royal Arch Medal" by the General Grand Chapter, of Royal Arch Masons, 1951, for work in the humanities; recipient of the "Josiah Hayden Drummond Distinguished Service Medal" by the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Maine, at its 137th Annual Communication, May 1, 1956; past commander, DeMolay Council Knights of Kadosh No. 2, Western Missouri, A. A. S. R., as well as holding many other offices and honors in the various Masonic bodies. It was in 1919 that Frank S. Land founded the Order of DeMolay, and is the present secretary general of the International Supreme Council. He also founded the Young Men's Civic Forum, International, was presented the achievement medal by the City of Toledo, Ohio, 1932, and in 1955 received the medal of La Fundacion International Eloy Alfaro, Republic of Panama. Among the many other things on which he serves is the American Advisory Council, Yenching University, Peiping, China.

cept on Sundays. In the afternoon we study our lessons and if we have some free time we go with our parents for a short walk or if the weather is not good we stay at home and listen to the radio. My father spends most of his time reading books and fishing. It is a real enjoyment for him. My mother too likes to read novels and embroider.

"In summer life is quite different. We all go fishing and swimming, for a long excursion in the country, to the cinema and sometimes for a trip to another town of Greece.

"Since I was a little girl I have heard my father speak enthusiastically of the Americans and their country. All I heard impressed me and made me dream of a journey to America. I want to learn all about this hospitable and progressive country. I want to see something of the American way of life, customs, wonderful civilization about which I have read a lot of things. I want to live for a short time their high standards of living, get to know a lot of children from all countries and so become their friend.

"I am quite an optimist and very often I dream of my future life. I plan to continue my studies and to become a chemist. I want to do something of my life and be useful to others."

The September issue of Holiday Magazine carried a picture of Corfu and a short story about it began with: "Not many of the world's storybook lands have managed to escape the inroads of the 20th Century. But Corfu that forty miles of island loom from Homer's 'wine dark' Ionian Sea, off the merged coasts of Albania and Greece come close. It may be that Corfu has seen so many of the world's varied civilizations that time, in terms of days and hours, no longer means anything particularly vital. History has telescoped among the black-green olive groves, the twisted pines, and the wind-bent cypresses, the flowering Judas trees and the eternal blue-and-gold illusions wrought by the Mediterranean Sea and sun."

And so from this land comes Clio, who has had four years of English, speaks French well and Italian fair, who loves all kinds of sports, reading, dancing and stamp collecting, and who plans to be a chemist.

In the three letters from people of Corfu about Clio, one says she is extremely charming and talented and of artistic nature. Another states she is from one of the best and most honest families of Corfu, and that her father is a retired brigadier with an excellent

Fires In the City

The fire companies Friday made two runs where dry grass was burning. No damage resulted. The first alarm was at 1:20 p.m. to 16th and New York and the second alarm was at 3:57 to the 1700 block on West Fourth.

At 11:42 a.m. Saturday the fire companies were called to 1418 North Osage, where dry grass was burning. No damage resulted.

The Sedalia Fire Department was called out three times Saturday afternoon. The first call, received at 12:33 p.m., was to 209 West their knowledge of vowels, consonants and syllables.

They were impressed with the new "black boards" too, which are a soft green. Some used yellow chalk, but the majority were using white.

Another change noted at Mark Twain and Horace Mann was in the style of cloakrooms from the way they used to be. These were hinged to the wall door that opened to reveal children's coats and hats, when closed it made a nice wall for posters and handwork.

One classroom was located in the basement adjacent to the playground and off on a ball would come over and hit the basement window, which, of course, delighted the children but often startled the teacher.

The unusually large enrollment at Horace Mann is due to the new housing developments that have come to southwest Sedalia since Horace Mann was remodeled several years ago.

The halls were decorated with Easter lilies made by the children and which were very realistic.

The group then returned to Smith-Cotton cafeteria for lunch. Later they visited the high school itself. They first visited Mrs. Carl Schrader's eighth grade music class, then the two libraries, where the pupils were busy with reference work.

The home economics department was an interesting place, particularly to the women. The girls taught by Miss Wolfrum were busy hemming towels and making skirts, some cutting, while others were stitching on the machines. In the class taught by Mrs. Mary Maddox, the girls were planning diagrams for place settings to enter in a contest. Mrs. McKee's classroom looked like an exclusive pastry shop where the girls were all busy arranging fancy little cakes, cookies and fruit and nut bread on trays for a tea that was being held that afternoon.

The next visit was to the manual training classes, all nicely equipped, and some fine work was being done in tooling leather, making crystal sets and one nicely designed coffee table was finished and in the process of being waxed.

The report on the schools of the west half of the city was made by Mrs. Leslie Hale, who stated it was a most enjoyable and profitable trip. She said she only wished that more sewing machines and other equipment would be provided for the talented girls and boys to use at this period when they are preparing themselves for their life's work.

Cooper where burning trash on the property of Charles Grey caused slight damage.

The second call, received at 1:24 p.m., was a false alarm to 1203 South Lamine.

The third call, which was received at 2:42 p.m., was to 1808 West Broadway where burning trash caused a grass fire. Damage was slight.

Drainage Problem

water from being impounded with resultant flooding."

The reference to downstream structures is to the culverts beneath Carr, Barrett, Beacon, Warren, Limit and State Fair Blvd. The Burns and McDonnell memorandum to the Highway Department states that the structures at Beacon, Warren, Limit and State Fair Blvd. are smaller in area than those at Carr and Barrett. The former have an area of 19.6 square feet each, while those at Carr and Barrett have an area of 24 square feet each. The memorandum states that flooding will occur because the ditch and these structures will be unable to carry away the water.

According to a report of Burns and McDonnell in 1956, made on the entire storm and sanitary sewer lines of Sedalia at the request of the city, "Some of the trouble resulting in the drainage area to the north of Broadway and west of Carr Street has been aggravated by the installation of several 60-inch metal roadway culverts that are not capable of handling runoff from cloudburst type storms that frequent Sedalia."

The letter to Mayor Bagby cites two factors as the cause for additional water being deposited at the drainage ditch. The first is the extra amount of highway surface which it states will not allow nearly as much runoff as the grass area which it will cover. The second is the fact that the new storm sewers will collect some water which can be directed in either of two directions, which was originally planned to be directed north, according to the Burns and McDonnell report of 1956, and which will now be drained west.

This is the water to be drained from the area from about Kentucky to about Massachusetts and from Broadway to Ninth, at the crown of a hill.

In his letter to Mayor Bagby, Wymore stated that District Engineer Snider said the Kansas City district office would recommend to the Highway Department that the City of Sedalia be aided in its storm sewer program "to the degree that the highway construction has increased the flow of water."

He also stated that Jones, Fletcher and Snider had pointed out that in constructing the storm sewers on Broadway, they are already contributing financially to the construction of Sedalia's storm sewer system.

He said that another point made by them was that while the water at the crown of the hill in the Broadway and Ohio Ave. vicinity is being drained west instead of the planned north, they have decreased by the same amount the capacity required in the north sewer.

"They reason," Wymore reports, "that their construction has not added to the overall storm water problem."

In the Burns and McDonnell report of 1956, the engineering firm recommended many changes for area in question, including conditions existing as far back in the drainage area as 12th and Stewart. The estimated cost of the improvements, made by the firm, was $1,853,900. The total cost of the improvements recommended for throughout the city—storm sewer systems in four directions, sanitary sewers and treatment plants—was $6,391,100.

Teachers Can Claim Back Tax Refunds

WASHINGTON — Teachers may claim income tax refunds back to January 1, 1954, for costs of summer school or refresher training.

This is provided under a new regulation liberalizing tax deductions for education.

But teachers will have to hurry if they hope to enter claims dating back to 1954, an Internal Service spokesman said today, because the three-year deadline on refunds will apply to such claims.

This means that a claim for a 1954 refund must be filed by Tuesday, the deadline for the 1957 tax returns. Claims for 1955 can wait another year, and for 1956 two more years.

The regulation announced last week gives teachers a privilege formerly enjoyed by self-employed persons. Their costs of further education are deductible even though the expense is incurred voluntarily and even if the courses carry academic credit or result in promotion or higher salary.

Previously a teacher could deduct these costs only if the training was required for him to keep his job, his current salary or his seniority status.

The refresher course, seminar, summer school or institute training must be undertaken primarily to equip the teacher to do his present job better.

If the money is spent primarily to help him get a new job or a better job, or to meet the minimum requirements to qualify him to enter the teaching profession, it is not deductible.

In other words, the deduction may be claimed if the added training results in a promotion, but not if a promotion was the primary aim of the training.

If Homework Is Completed

Seven Percent of Teenage Boys Think They Should Be Allowed Mid-Week Dates

By Eugene Gilbert

Looks as if parents are going to have to man the barricades of their authority or run the risk of being overrun by teen-agers bent on breaking down another traditional restraint.

The issue this time is mid-week dating. Time was when few youngsters, let alone parents, thought it permissible or wise for them to go out on dates during the school week.

Now 70 per cent of the boys to whom we put the question asserted that they should be allowed to have mid-week dates. While the same went for only 44 per cent of the girls, the overall average was definitely affirmative.

Nearly all those saying yes did so with the reservation that dating shouldn't interfere with studies. "If the homework is finished, I think it is all right to date," said a 17-year-old Missouri miss. "Dating is fine, but shouldn't infringe on school work," added 16-year-old Mitchell Vogel of Chicago.

Carol Neutzman, 14, of Flushing, N. Y., put it this way: "This is the only time we have to be young, and if studying and dating can be combined successfully, they ought to be."

Some claimed that week night dating helped them study. Ted Doolittle of Sacramento, Calif., said: "Dating during the week gives me something to look forward to, a reason for studying harder."

Joe Greenberg, 17, of Philadelphia, commented: "When I know I am going out during the week, I study even harder the rest of the nights."

From those who disapprove of middle of the week dating came these views: "Weekday dating takes up too much time" — Jerry Campbell, 15, of Seattle.

"Dates and books don't mix," Martha Corbett of Omaha, Neb., said. "I'd prefer to keep my dating restricted to weekends." — Linda Ringle, 17, of Jersey City.

We also asked the teen-agers how much they thought mid-week dating infringed on studying. Thirty-nine per cent replied "not at all," 37 per cent "just a little," and 24 per cent "a lot."

Once again boys and girls differed widely in their answers. Fifty-two per cent of the boys said dating doesn't impose at all on studying, but this was an opinion held by only 26 per cent of the girls. Thirty-one per cent of the boys said dating infringed "just a little" and 17 per cent answered "a lot." The respective figures for the girls were 44 per cent and 30 per cent.

Asked if thoughts about their boy or girl friend deterred them from studying, 11 per cent replied "yes," 27 per cent "no," and 62 per cent that they had no romantic interest to disturb them. Boys rated slightly better in the concentration department — only 9 per cent saying their minds wandered from history or math to their current flame, compared with 13 per cent of the girls.

"No matter what I do, I can't push thoughts of Jerry out of my mind," giggled a 16-year-old New York lass.

Our survey also probed other study habits of the nation's teen-agers, with some interesting results.

We learned, for instance, that most youngsters — 73 per cent of them — like to do their homework late in the evening, as most parents can testify. About 7 per cent prefer getting it out of the way as soon as they get home, and 9 per cent about one or two hours after reaching home. Less than 1 per cent crawl out of bed early to do the work before school.

Ten per cent reported they had enough study time to finish all their homework in school. Boys and girls were pretty much in agreement on this question.

The young people didn't hesitate to blame themselves for poor study habits or for procrastination in doing their work.

A 15-year-old Indiana youth summed up the feelings of 97 per cent of those polled when he said: "Sometimes I just can't make myself get started with homework. I blame this completely on myself."

About 3 per cent blamed their friends and less than one per cent pointed an accusing finger at their parents.

Our pollsters almost had to run for cover to escape the loud chorus of resounding "no's" that greeted them when they asked: "Do you feel the need for more homework?"

Only 2 per cent felt their teachers assigned insufficient homework.

"Less time should be expected for home study," said 15-year-old Dorothea Olson of Whistone, N. Y.

A Detroit youth fairly exploded: "I don't have time to get all my present homework done. I don't know what I'd do with more."

Reflecting the views of the small minority, a 16-year-old Normandy, Mo., girl stated: "I think more homework should be assigned in

Rolls Into High Gear Tuesday

Big League Season Opens Mon. With Many Changes

By JOE REICHLER
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 1958 major league baseball season opens with a sneak preview Monday and rolls into high gear Tuesday with a new look.

It will present a new world champion, two major league cities, a new general manager, a new field leader, a scattering of new coaches and a flock of new faces in the playing ranks.

For the first time in nine years there is a defending champion from a city (Milwaukee) other than New York. For the first time in history the majors have become national in scope.

The boundaries of the national pastime have been pushed westward some 1,500 miles to the shores of the Pacific with the advent of big league ball in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

On the bleak side, however, the exodus of the Dodgers from Brooklyn and the Giants from Manhattan leaves New York without National League representation for the first time in more than three quarters of a century.

The switch of general manager Frank Lane from St. Louis to Cleveland is expected to live up to things in the American League. Lane already has completed a flock of trades designed to help his new manager, Bobby Bragan, pull the Indians out of the second division. With frantic Frank showing the way, the majors completed a near record number of trades this past winter and spring.

As a result the new season finds a goodly number of old reliables in new surroundings. Ted Kluszewski has become a Pirate, Billy Martin a Tiger, Minnie Minoso an Indian, Bobby Thomson a Cub, Harvey Haddix a Red, Wally Pate a Phillie, and Early Wynn a White Soxer, to name a few.

Such glittering stars as the unfortunate Roy Campanella, George Kell, Jerry Coleman and Joe Collins are gone from the scene. Others such as Bob Lemon, Pee Wee Reese, Hank Sauer, Robin Roberts, Enos Slaughter and Sal Maglie may be having their final fling.

But some of the game's all time greats, Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Warren Spahn, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Willie Mays, Gil Hodges, Henry Aaron and Alvin Dark, still command tremendous respect from their rivals.

As for the pennant races, observers have chosen the Yankees and Braves to clash in another World Series. Neither club is a sure thing, however. Manager Fred Haney of the Braves feels secure but the Cards are expected to be tough with the same ball club which gave Milwaukee a terrific fight last year. The Redlegs have improved their pitching. The Dodgers still have superb pitching and the transfer to Los Angeles may act as a tonic to the familiar "Bums."

The Yankees have been quoted at 2 to 5 to win the pennant but this may not be one of the great Yankee teams. The race should develop into a four team scramble. The White Sox have the pitching, the Tigers have the hitting, and the Red Sox appear to be the most improved team in the league.

Either the Red Sox or the Senators face an opportunity to get a jump on the rest of the league Monday when they clash in the majors' traditional opener in Washington. A crowd of 28,000 is expected in Griffith Stadium to see President Eisenhower throw out the first ball.

Following the President's annual "pitch" a pair of proven right-handers, Boston's Frank Sullivan (14-11) and Washington's Pete Ramos (12-16) will match pitches on the capital city's mound.

All openers will be played in the afternoon with the exception of the Cubs-Cards game, a night affair in St. Louis.

Here are Tuesday's opening games with the expected attendance in parentheses:

American League
New York at Boston (25,000).
Washington at Baltimore (27,000).
Kansas City at Cleveland (35,000).

National League
Philadelphia at Cincinnati (30,000).
Pittsburgh at Milwaukee (43,000).

Chicago at St. Louis (19,000).
Los Angeles at San Francisco (23,400).

Clinton Whips Windsor And Adrian In Track

Clinton won a triangular meet Friday by defeating Windsor and Adrian. The Cardinals copied only three firsts, but stacked up enough second and third finishes to finish on top with 57½ points. Windsor finished in the runner-up slot with 50 points and Adrian had 40½.

The winners: H-F-Y Young (A) 16.8; 100-Kelly (W) 11.4; Mile-Hunziker (A) 5:31; 880-Relay-Windsor (Wombles, Summers, Bullock, Kelly) 1:39.2; Shot-Bullock (8) 41-50; 440-Gouge (W), 56.4; 110-218 (W) 25.3; 880-Hunziker (A) 2:18; H-J-Powell (C) 18-11½; 220-Bullock (W) 25.1; Mile relay-Windsor (Wombles, Parnock, Hogue, Gouge) 3:53.5; Discus-S-S; P-V-(tie) Corbin (A) and Silver (A) 9-5.

A STAR IS REBORN

Williams, Mantle In Homer Form

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle, the big guns of the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees, were in home run form Saturday but both their teams lost.

Williams, 2-for-2 as a pinch-hitter in his only exhibition appearance this spring, belted a solo homer in the eighth, but the Red Sox were long dead by then. Richmond of the International League picked up six unearned runs in the second and whipped Boston 11-7.

Mantle crashed a pair of homers, but the Philadelphia Phillies ruined the Yankees' homecoming with a 3-2 decision. Robin Roberts, who will open the season for the Phillies Tuesday, shut out the Yankees on two singles in a three-inning stint.

Al Kaline's homer in the 15th paid off for the Detroit Tigers with a 4-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. The Tigers had lost seven straight.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, with the help of four walks, scored five in the fifth and cracked their five-game losing string with a 6-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Cincinnati and Baltimore split a doubleheader at Baltimore. The Orioles took the seven-inning opener 3-2 on Bob Nieman's pinch single in the seventh. The Redlegs then took the nightcap by the same score, picking up an unearned run in the ninth.

The Kansas City Athletics also scored the winner in the ninth with Bill Tuttle's single capping a two-run A's ninth that beat the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 before 12,809 fans at Kansas City.

Three pitchers, one of them ex-Pirate Art Swanson, combined for five-hit, 5-0 victory over Pittsburgh by Columbus of the International League.

The Chicago White Sox got just three hits off Washington's Hal Griss and Russ Kemmerer, but two were homers by Jim Landis and Bubba Phillips that beat the Senators 4-1.

A six-run Cleveland ninth junked a San Francisco lead built on homers by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Daryl Spencer, but the Giants finally got the job done 12-11 in the 10th.

Eighth Graders Win

S-C Freshmen Drop Meet To Marshall

Drop Meet To Marshall

The Smith-Cotton eighth grade track team scored a decisive victory over Marshall Saturday morning, but the Freshman thinclads dropped the team verdict to Marshall by "a quarter of an inch."

In the Freshman meet, the outcome hinged on the broad jump. The Tigers needed both first and second spots to claim the win. Charles Case soared 17½" to take first place, but Scott of Marshall defeated S-C's Wilson by one-quarter of an inch with a leap of 15½" on his final jump of the event.

The score of the freshmen meet was Marshall 55½, Smith-Cotton 53½. The Sedalia eighth graders won, 76 2/3 to 23½.

Case was the individual standout for the Tiger's freshman unit with four firsts and a first place tie for 24 points. He won the 100-yard dash, 120-yard low hurdles, 220-yard dash and the broad jump. He tied with Daugherty for first in the high jump. In all, the Bengal freshmen won eight firsts to Marshall's five, but domination of second and third place finishes pulled the Owls in. Other Tigers chalking up blue ribbon victories were Yount in the 440-yard dash; Taylor in the Pole Vault; and Daugherty, Schupbach, Morehead and Yount in the mile relay.

Art Wiggins led the Smith-Cotton eighth grade win with four firsts. He also ran a leg on the winning 440-yard relay for S-C, gathering a total of 21½ points. Wiggins won the 100-yard low hurdles; high jump; shot put and broad jump. The Sedalia eighth graders won 11 of 12 first places. Others chalking up wins were Dale Herick, 100-yard dash; Campbell, 440-yard dash; Herick, 220-yard dash; Van Winkle, pole vault; and Broom, discus. Herick and Dee Van Winkle scored 12½ points each for the S-C squad.

The next meet for the Smith-Cotton junior high track squad will be Saturday in Clinton.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

Of all the problems Little League and Babe Ruth League have had in getting the boys all checked over — they have had it this season. The physical examination had to be put over one more week because of important matters pertaining to the doctors who were unable to take on the big chore.

It is the hope of the officials of the two leagues that the physical examinations, which are conducted by the doctors who are members of the Pettis County Medical Society, will be able to carry them out on Saturday, April 19th. It will be a terrific job for the doctors to check some 700 youngsters and to give them the O.K. to play ball in 1958.

No boy is permitted to participate in either of the two leagues until after they have received a physical examination — it's a safety measure for both the sponsoring groups of the leagues as well as for each boy.

But the plan is, as of now, to hold the examination at the National Guard Armory, Saturday morning, April 19, starting at 9 o'clock.

So you ball players of the future get all set and ready to go through the line for your check up. Your cooperation is being on time, cooperating in every way, will be appreciated by the doctors and the officials in charge.

Attention is called to the coupon elsewhere on the sports page regarding the city-wide recreation plan. A committee headed by Rev. Edward Sims met Friday night and discussed the future of such a recreation set up and has come up with some rather definite ideas.

It will be noted that on the coupon there are many activities listed. The people of Sedalia who are definitely interested in recreation are requested to look it over and check your favorite activity, or recommend others. Most important is to mail the coupons so they can be surveyed and checked for an over-all analysis for a starter.

John Vandekamp, vice-chairman of the committee, is in charge of receiving the coupons. They will be put together and the committee will then sort them out and check them as to the most popular of activities.

On Friday night, April 25th, the Committee will again meet and will discuss the program with L. Elizabeth Yoder, who has planned to coordinate and act as administrator temporarily.

This is expected to be the starter for a full scale program. If the starter is successful this year, it will be enlarged next season. It also has a chance of being carried on through the fall and winter months this coming year.

Please take time out and check the coupon, fill it out and mail to John Vandekamp, 406 West Seventh street, Sedalia.

Recreation Plan Left Up To Citizens

The future of Sedalia's city-wide recreation plan is up to the people of Sedalia who are interested in recreation. Appearing on the sports page is a coupon listing recreation activities and people of the city are urged to mark what they are interested in and mail it in immediately.

Rev. Edward Sims, chairman of the temporary committee to make the survey, held a meeting Friday night with the following members of the committee present: John Vandekamp, vice-chairman, L. R. Black, Sedalia Parks superintendent, Forrest Benner, president of the Board of Education, Ed Kehde and Robert Johnson, members of the school board, and P. A. Sillers, director of elementary education.

Considerable discussion of the program as proposed by Mayor-elect Abe Silverman was held. Much interest was shown by the committee members and one decision was made. This decision is to put to the people through the newspapers their desires of what type of recreation they desire.

The committee also decided to conduct an inventory of the facilities in the Sedalia parks and schools which would be available for this city-wide program. And an inventory will be made after the survey is completed to find out just what additional items will be necessary.

To set the sights on what the people want, the following activities have been listed: day camping, handicrafts, archery, volleyball, croquet, model airplanes, track, hiking, tennis, dancing, fly or bait casting, horseshoes, badminton, shuffleboard, basketball (outdoor), golden age groups. Then there is space for additional recommendations.

The next meeting of the recreational group will be held on Friday, April 25th.

Into The Light
WASHINGTON (A) — The Roman Catholic church during 1957 gained about 30,000 new Negro members in this country, 11,375 of them by conversions, the others by births, bringing total American Negro membership in the church to 575,925, the church's commission for Indian and Negro missions reports. It said there were 890 Indian conversions, raising Indian membership to 117,400. The report says 17 million Negroes and 250,000 Indians remain in "spiritual darkness."

S-C Tennis Team Defeats Marshall

By STAN JONES

The Smith-Cotton tennis team defeated the Marshall Owls 7-2 Thursday in the Tigers' first tennis competition of the year. The meet was held on the Marshall courts.

The only Tiger to suffer defeat in the singles matches was John Stonner, who lost to Marshall's Tom Hightower, 6-1 and 6-3. Smith-Cotton's winning players were Leroy Street, 6-1 and 6-3; Charles Halbrook, 6-4, 5-7 and 6-3; Gordon Anthony, 6-1 and 6-3; David Snow, 6-3, 2-6 and 6-2; and Bill Heiss, 6-2 and 6-1.

In the doubles matches the Tigers won two and lost one. Winning teams were Street and Stonner, 7-5, 3-6 and 6-0; and Bill Heiss and David Snow, 4-6, 7-5 and 6-1. The losing team was composed of Anthony and Halbrook, who were defeated 6-2 and 6-4.

This is a comparatively new team at Smith-Cotton, having been formed in the past three or four years. With its fine crew this year, Tiger fans are hoping to see them become known not only around Sedalia, but also around the state.

The Smith-Cotton girls tennis team was also in competition with Marshall Thursday. However, they lost their meet 3-2. Marshall took all the singles and lost both doubles. The losing Tigers were Sharon Vedder, Rita Napier and Linda Vedder. Sharon was defeated by Jean Rawlings, 6-1, 3-6 and 4-6; Judy Wiley beat Rita 6-3 and 6-2; and Linda fell to Marshall's Kay Smith, 6-4 and 8-6.

In the doubles, the Smith-Cotton team of Marilyn Goldman and Beth Wicker won over Marilyn Markum and Linda Page, 6-4 and 6-3, and the team of Rita Napier and Linda Vedder defeated Joyce Marton and Judy Wiley 6-2 and 6-3.

The Smith-Cotton golf team didn't fare so well in their match with Mexico this week as the Tigers lost by a good number of strokes. On the Bengals team were David Ledbetter, Tom Austin, Steve Schultz and Bill Reburn. Dick Sklar, a regular team member, was ill and unable to participate. However, when the team gets back in shape Smith-Cottonites will expect fine showings through the rest of the season.

Bowling Show Nets Nearly $700 for Crippled Children

By Gene Williams
The Sedalia Crippled Children's Center came out as the big winner on the "Bowling for Our Children" program at Broadway Lanes Friday night as generous Sedalia sportsmen contributed nearly $700—making the effort a tremendous success.

Numerous individuals deserve credit for the heartfelt and humane program, but Charley Thompson and Jim Carter, co-owners of Broadway Lanes, deserve special recognition. They donated all facilities of their 16 lane establishment to the Crippled Children's Center committee. Every dollar spent at Broadway Lanes during the program, which began at 8 p. m. and ended at midnight, will be used to further the work of the Sedalia Crippled Children's Center.

Proceeds came from teams which participated in challenge match games, doubles events, trick and specialty shots and all open bowling. Television viewers of KDR-TV also contributed generously for the privilege of requesting stunts of various bowlers.

Although every participant proved a high degree of sportsmanship, it was generally conceded that Bill Brown, local attorney, and George Thompson, principal of Horace Mann school, deserve an extra pat on the back. Television viewers kept both busy with some outlandish requests. Brown, among other things, was requested to push a ball down the alley with his nose and knock down the one pin. He accomplished the feat—blindfolded once and with the aid of his vision another time—to the delight of the large audience.

Thompson, the ping-pong champion of Sedalia, was required to make several difficult shots with a bowling ball and ping pong paddle. Despite the improbability of the request, Thompson was up to the situation and with astute ingenuity he succeeded and added the generous pledges to the Crippled Children's fund.

Mrs. Charles Van Dyne came up with the best clutch performance of the evening. A television viewer pledged two dollars for every pin Mrs. Van Dyne knock down on a single effort and the contributor paid in full as a perfect hit recorded a big "X" on the pinicator.

The match game between the S & M Athletic Goods team, captained by Francis Giger, and the Broadway Lanes traveling team added $77 to the fund. Each member of the six man teams chipped in $5 and a total of $17 was added from the jack-pot which was established for doubles, turkeys and split conversions. Jack Vaughan, a member of the Broadway Lanes team, racked up six straight strikes which accounted for $4.95 of the jack pot fund.

In addition to the S & M Athletic Goods and Broadway Lanes teams, Jenkins-Greer, Whiteman Air Force Base and Looney-Bloss Lumber Company entered men's teams in match play and Conner-Waggoner, Bing's Rexall and Parks City Service entered teams in women's match play.

Mrs. Virginia Flower, president of the board of the Crippled Children's Center, said the results of the program were very gratifying and that everyone helping in any way—the organizers, performers and contributors—share equal credit for the success.

Bill Hopkins, publicity director of the Crippled Children's Center, pointed out that the money derived from the program was the largest lump sum ever received for the Center.

The Sedalia Crippled Children's Center is presently located at 638 East 14th. When the new addition to the Bothwell Hospital is completed, the Center will move its quarters into the new facilities.

The Center provides physical and speech therapy for 54 handicapped children of the Sedalia area. In addition to the professional staff required to provide treatment and therapy to these children, between 40 and 50 Sedalia women donate their time to provide assistance every week.

The program is financed entirely by public contributions. The operating budget for 1958 amounts to $21,000. Anyone wishing to contribute to the project can mail checks or money orders to A. B. Warren, treasurer of the Center, in care of the Main Street Drug Store in Sedalia.

Balding Takes Two-Stroke Lead In Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Al Balding, long and lanky Canadian professional from Markham, Ontario, shot his second three under par 68 Saturday for a 136 total and a two-stroke lead in the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament after 36 holes.

There was a major reshuffling of the standings as first round leader Don Whitte took a 77, 10 shots over his initial effort, to drop almost out of sight. Thirty-five men passed him in the rush for advantageous position going into Sunday's final 36 holes.

Tony Lema, 24-year-old Napa, Calif., pro who has been campaigning all year without distinguishing himself, came up with his second 69, second place at 138.

Six men shared third position at 139, only three shots off the lead. Among them was Sam Sneed from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who is seeking his seventh Greensboro victory. Tied with him was Ed Furgol, the former U. S. Open champion from St. Andrews, Ill. Furgol, who has a withered left arm and an injured right elbow, shot a 36-60, bagging six birdies on the last nine. It was only the third time in 11 tournaments he had survived the 36-hole cut.

Ken Venturi of San Francisco, three-time winner this year, came up with his second successive par 71 to rest six shots back of Balding.

Oklahoma, Colorado Split Doubleheader

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma and Colorado split a Big Eight baseball doubleheader here Saturday, Colorado winning the opener 1-0 and the Sooners exploding for a 12-0 triumph in the second game.

Colorado's Joe Puleo edged Jim Hammond in a pitcher's duel in the first game, although he allowed four hits to three off of Hammond.

Singles by Lloyd Manown and Chuck McIntyre produced the only run of the game in the seventh inning.

Oklahoma exploded for eight runs in the second frame of the nightcap, then added four more in the third. Dave Clary's two-run single was the big hit of the second inning uprising which was fueled by five hits, five walks and three errors.

KU Whips Oklahoma State 90-45 In Track

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—The University of Kansas Saturday scored first in 10 of 16 events and swept four events in taking a 90-45 dual track meet victory over Oklahoma State.

Nine meet records were set and one tied.

Al Oertel, Kansas' great shot putter, was one of three men who scored doubles. He was first in the shot and discus. Orlando Hazley of Oklahoma captured the 100 and 220 dashes and Ernie Shelby of Kansas State took the low hurdles and broad jump.

Strands of spider web are used for cross hairs in survey instruments, microscopes and telescopic sights.

Land, Daniels Lead In Sedalia Tourney

Bob Land and Lloyd Daniels are the leaders of the half-way point in the Sedalia Bowling Association's Doubles Tournament at Sedalia Lanes with a combined score of 1,240. Land rolled a flashy 276 game and a 712 series to boost the team into the lead. His scores were 191-187-276, plus a 58 pin handicap. Daniels rolled games of 144-142-138, plus a 104 pin handicap.

Eddie Boysel and Fran Tray are in second spot with a 1,222 team series. Boysel racked up a 600 scratch series with scores of 200, 206 and 194, plus a 62 pin handicap. Tray recorded games of 169, 188 and 165, plus a 38 pin handicap, for a 560 series.

Johnny Hazel and Bob McCurdy, with a 1,205 score, are in third place. Hazel had games of 212, 196 and 186, plus a 38 pin handicap, for a 632 series. McCurdy rolled games of 180, 170 and 185 for a 573 series, including a 38 pin handicap.

Land's 276 is high scratch game of the tournament. Bill Shockey has second high scratch game with a 254. Land also holds the high scratch series with his 600.

The tournament prize fund has pushed past the $100 mark. Play will continue through today and the tourney will wind-up next Sunday night.

SHOCKEY HAS HIGH GAME

Bill Shockey topped Sedalia bowlers for high single game in ABC league competition this week with a 243 performance at Broadway Lanes. Bob Young fired a 235 at Sedalia Lanes for runner-up honors. Johnny Hazell tossed a 616 series for top honors in the three game set scores. During the week only four 600's were recorded. Joe Long tossed a 615. Gerald Horst had a 603 and Russ Shafer a 602.

Bonnie Boyd had top game scores in women's competition with a 214 and a 210.

Moves Create New Interest

Frick Sees Two 12-Club Leagues In 5 or 10 Years

By FORD C. FRICK

Commissioner of Baseball Written for The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Every baseball season is interesting but the sport faces a particular challenge this year because of the move to California by the Giants and Dodgers. Within the last five years, we have attempted to modernize ourselves. How far this program will go depends on what happens in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

To my way of thinking, we still haven't touched on the real issue of expansion. Moving one club from a two-club city may be expansion in a sense but we must be prepared to move to new frontiers to keep pace with the growth of our nation.

I am convinced that expansion has to come. How rapidly it comes, will be determined by events on the Pacific Coast.

As for the majors, I formerly talked about a third major league. I have changed. To my way of thinking, the answer now would be two 12-club leagues. Each league would have two six-team sections. The clubs would play all the teams in their own section, plus a limited number of games with the teams in the other section of the same league. At the end of the season, the two section winners would meet in a special playoff. Then the two league winners would play the world series, as usual.

Possibly within five years, and most certainly within 10 years, I expect to see 24 major league teams in this country.

I think baseball is on the brink of its greatest year. Attendance is increasing. More youngsters are playing baseball now than ever before. The sport is just beginning to come of age. We still haven't touched on its great potential.

Community Council Notes Improvements

The Negro Community Council met at the home of Professor R. E. Lee April 10 for its regular monthly meeting. C. Abbott, president, presided. Regular business was carried out and committee reports were heard.

The civic committee reported that work recently done on North Washington made driving much safer, and that other streets had been graded and rocked. The committee reported, however, that something should be done about the dust from the newly-rocked streets.

The Park and Recreation committee revealed that Hubbard Park was being readied for summer use.

Professor H. Browder reported that Business-Education day at Hubbard was a success, and that visitors were favorably impressed with the work at the school.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Helen Lee, Mrs. Dorothy Lee and Miss Geraldine Jones.

The next meeting will be at the home of Dr. A. R. Maddox, 509 West Johnson, May 1.

Oklahoma State Takes Two From Kansas State

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—The Oklahoma State Cowboys, making their debut in Big Eight Conference baseball, completed a sweep of their three-game series with Kansas State Saturday by winning a doubleheader, 3-1 and 5-0. Oklahoma State won the opener Friday, 5-4.

Roy Peterson pitched a 2-hitter for Oklahoma State in the first of the 7-inning games, and mate Roy Soergel duplicated the feat in the nightcap. Soergel, a star football quarterback, pitched five and two-thirds innings of perfect ball before pinch hitter Mel Kopf nicked him for a single.

Eisenhower Helps Youth Get Start In Baseball

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower played the role of baseball scout in the Pittsburgh Pirates' signing of "a pretty darn good pitcher"—the young son of a White House doorkeeper.

The Pirates announced Saturday night the acquisition of Preston Bruce Jr., 21, a Negro whose father has worked at the White House for four years.

At the same time Eisenhower's vacation headquarters have disclosed that the President—a good center fielder in his youth—called the Pirates' attention to young Bruce several months ago.

It happened at a White House stag dinner given by Eisenhower last July 23. One of the guests was Branch Rickey, the Pirates' board chairman.

During the affair the President called in the elder Bruce and introduced him to Rickey.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Saturday in response to inquiries, that Eisenhower had told Rickey of young Bruce's interest in baseball and referred to him as "a pretty darn good pitcher."

"That's all the President had to do with it," Hagerty added.

The press secretary did not know whether that was the first tip on Bruce the Pirates had.

A Pirate spokesman said Bruce has been assigned to play with the Lincoln, Neb. club in the Class A Western League. It is a Pirate farm team.

Bruce is expected to report to Lincoln after he graduates from college in May. The 6-foot-4 right-hander has won college letters in baseball, basketball and soccer.

The signing took place after Bruce had worked out at the Pirate minor league training camp in Jacksonville Beach, Fla., for two weeks during his Easter recess from school.

Police Chief Remembered By His Force

Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors, Friday afternoon, was given the "biggest surprise of his life" by the presentation of a set of luggage from the members of the Police Department, several members of the American Legion Auxiliary Police, and some outsiders who work with the police.

It was at the 2 o'clock roll call that Chief Neighbors sat in his chair and heard the roll call, and listened to the daily reports. After the formal activity, attention was called to two large cardboard boxes sitting in back of the chief. One of the officers walked over lifted them up and put them in front of him.

"What's this?" asked Chief Neighbors.

"Oh, just something to remember us by," Desk Sergeant Charles Homan remarked, as the rest of the police officers sat on the benches with smiles.

Chief Neighbors began opening the packages. Out of one came a two-suitcase suit case and a smaller man's suitcase. From the second came a lady's traveling case.

The Chief was "stumped" for words.

"Open them up," said Homan. The Chief opened up the large case and there was a box of cigars. He then opened the lady's case and there was a three-pound box of candy.

Chief Neighbors expressed his appreciation to the men, some of whom had been on the force since he took over about ten years ago.

"It has been wonderful working with you men, Mrs. Neighbors, and I can speak for her now, and myself greatly appreciate these fine gifts. They will last us our life time and everytime we take a trip I'll remember this day," Chief Neighbors said.

All the members of the department contributed, as did several of the Legion Auxiliary Police and a couple of other men who work with the police.

CANTON, Mo. (AP)—An eighth inning steal of home gave Culver-Stockton College a 6-5 baseball victory over Central College here Saturday.

It was an MCAU conference game.

The score was tied, 5-5, when left fielder Larry Moore of Culver tapped out a single. He advanced to third on a passed ball and a wild pitch.

Then with two out, Moore stole home.

The leading Culver-Stockton hitter was Jio Dio, a St. Louisan of Japanese ancestry. He hit safely two out of three times and scored each time he got on.

The winning pitcher was Harry Hogge and Bob Eagleheart was the loser.

Culver now is 1-0 in the conference and Central 0-1.

In a tennis match Central won, 4-1.

Change Policy Demanded

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Saturday night a summit meeting won't get anywhere unless there is a change in Russian policy.

"The record plainly shows that the Soviets are interested only in the communication of the world on their dictatorship plan," Truman declared in an address prepared for a dinner of the American Veterans of World War II—Amvets.

"Ever since 1946, the Russian government has been doing everything possible to keep international relations in a state of tension and unrest."

"We are asked now to believe that a so-called summit conference will change all this. What we need is not a propaganda meeting but a change in Russian policy, and if there is no such change a so-called summit meeting will not get anywhere."

Truman attended the Amvets dinner to accept an Americanism award on the 13th anniversary of his taking over the presidency upon the death of President Franklin Roosevelt.

Truman said a change in Russian policy is not likely—"If anything is fairly clear and firmly established," he said, "it is the Russian policy of hostility to the free nations."

Consequently, he said, the United States has to make a great and sustained effort to meet Russia's challenge in the cold war.

Some people say we don't need to meet the challenge, Truman went on, "that the Russians only want us to unbalance our budget and drive us into bankruptcy, and the way to outwit them is to keep our budget balanced and go along just as usual."

"This is just plain nonsense."

"I firmly believe that we can meet the Russian threat, and keep our lead, without destroying our free institutions, provided we understand our own economy and know how to make it work."

Big City Becomes Smaller As Spring Fever Strikes

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (U) — There are many days in Manhattan when a man feels his soul has the altitude of an African pygmy.

But the payoff days come in spring. Then everyone shrugs off his coat of winter morbidity, and the tallest skyscraper is only knee-high to his soaring mind.

On such a day, when spring fever grips the big city, it turns into a small town.

The rush slows to a walk. Folks quit shoving each other in the subway.

File clerks sail paper airplanes out the windows.

The harried bus driver calms his temper and crieth "Welcome" to the passenger.

The angry cabbie ceaseth to unbraid the foolhardy pedestrian, and runneth over him not.

The pigeon—that flying panhandler—forgot the free peanut on the ground and wings after free love.

The rich theatrical agent, overcome by intimations of a common humanity, buys the unemployed actor a hot dog, and accepts his thanks with misty eye.

The old cop on the beat reaches up and fingers an opening leaf on a grimy tree, and wonders how it will be when he retires to Florida.

The young window washer, once a paratrooper in Korea, leans out laily against his belt—44 floors over the ant-men below—and yawns at the clouds.

The sadness deis out of the voice of the guitar-playing blind beggar on Broadway. He sings a new tune, and passers-by clink silver music into the cup that is his portable cash register.

The rich city dog, strolling down Park Ave. at the end of a leash held by a hired doorman, feels a bit warm in his mink wrap. His nose inspects only every other hydrant on his route. It is too much work to check them all.

Down on the East Side, mat-tresses bloom on the fire escapes in their first spring airing. Lines of fresh laundry, the flags of the poor, dance from one tenement wall to another.

From the remaining fine old saloons on new-proud 3rd Ave. a distinctive aroma of beer spread for half a block. And, sniffing, the passing wastrel tracks it back to the spout.

In the housing developments baby buggies create a new traffic problem. Bundled infants blink up at the bright sun with the wise look of owls.

Up in Central Park the polar bear crawls sleepily up on his rock, and dreams of rising and falling in polar seas. Bums drowse on the benches under the statues of heroes who, thanks to all-out pigeon bombings, appear like bums also. The statues look as if they would like to sit down and take it easy, too.

The wonder of living creeps into the heart of the office peasant. He yawneth at his desk, he dawdleth long at the water cooler, he wisheth it were champagne.

The new stenographer who cannot type has fewer critics. Who cares? In her bright chemise she is lovely as a rose in a flour sack of many colors. Could the Queen of Sheba type? The middle-aged bookkeeper stareth at her, forgetteth the small noisy hungry mouths at home, and maketh errors in his accounts.

Distance lends enchantment, and everyone wishes the boss would become more enchanted by going home early. Duty no longer calls; it barely whispers.

Everyone wants to go out in the open air to find an apple tree in bloom to lie under and remember when he was young, and his love was too.

Just mass spring fever, turning people back into people again by the magic of April. It will pass. And that's the pity of it.

BAPTIST YOUTH NIGHT—The young people in the upper picture and the pastors in the lower picture participated recently in a Youth Night at the Calvary Baptist Church, which 95 persons, representing 16 churches, attended. The young people conducted the program and then the pastors led four personal interest groups in discussion. The guest speaker was the Rev. John Crutchfield, Jefferson City. In upper picture, left to right: Front row, Mary Ann Hulme, Gloria Nichols and Frankie Campbell; second row, June Cusick, Nancy Yessen, Dick Alsip and Barbara Conaway; last row, Lloyd Lawson. Bottom picture, left to right: Front row, the Rev. R. D. Alsip, the Rev. Kenneth Davidson and Rev. Crutchfield; second row, the Rev. Gilbert Hulme, the Rev. Gene Parrott, and the Rev. Leon Parsons; back row, the Rev. Henry Hansen, the Rev. Eric Taylor, the Rev. James Eads, the Rev. Charles Tucker, the Rev. E. O. Farier, the Rev. Donald Bolings and the Rev. Bob Cross.

Hubbard Jr. Chorus To Present Program

Sisterhood of Ward Memorial Baptist Church will present the Junior Chorus of Hubbard grade school Sunday, April 13, 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. Virgil Kitchen will be the speaker. The public is invited. Mrs. Tessie Parks, president, and J. E. Erickson is pastor.

Moose to Hold Annual Memorial Service

The annual memorial services at the Loyal Order of Moose lodge will be held this afternoon beginning at 2:30 p. m. at the lodge.

According to a planned program outlined by the Supreme Lodge, Mooseheart, Ill., "Nearer My God to Thee" is the theme to be carried out. A quartet will sing "Lead Kindly Light."

Immediately after the roll call of deceased brothers, Harry Lynn Satterwhite sings "The Lord's Prayer."

The Memorial Day oration will be given by L. L. Studer.

This is a special program, planned annually to be on the first Sunday after Easter, for the members of the Moose, their wives and families, with written invitations going to the families of the deceased.

Gravois Mills BPWC Holds Meeting Here

The Gravois Mills Business and Professional Women's Club which has combined the business and professional women of two towns, Gravois Mills and Versailles, in its membership, met Thursday evening for a smorgasbord dinner at Flat Creek Inn. Fifty-six members from the Gravois Mills Club attended the dinner and were joined by 13 members of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs. James R. Scrivner, president, conducted the meeting and the invocation was given by Mrs. Orlyn White, chaplain.

A special guest was Mrs. Emma Palmer, Centralia, director of District IV, who made her official visit to the Gravois Mills Club. Mrs. Palmer praised the club for the Fall Conference held at Versailles last fall stating it was the best one she had ever attended. She said the club was having a very successful year and she was pleased that this club had given $10 toward the portrait of Miss Hazel Palmer, national president of the Federation, to be placed in the Federation building in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Orlyn White gave two readings, one a heartwarming little story on childhood memories of Easter and the other a humorous reading of an old Irishman's version of what a women's club is like.

Announcements were made of projects being planned by the Gravois Mills Business and Professional Women's Club. This organization has always been active in civic affairs of the two communities promoting many worthwhile projects, and has plans for others in the future. In addition the club has adopted a two-year-old Kentucky boy for a year and will provide for his keep that length of time.

Favors were green felt crosses to be used as bookmarks. After the material had been assembled for the bookmarks a former member of the club who had dropped out of the organization because of illness, made them for the club since she could no longer attend but wanted to contribute in some way.

The state meeting at Springfield to be held soon was stressed and members of the club urged to attend.

The president announced the club had four new members. The chaplain brought the meeting to a close with the benediction. Red geraniums were used as decorations on the speaker's table.

Spend Week In K. C.

Mrs. Fred Wehmeier, Fortuna, spent last week in Kansas City with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wehmeier, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Wehmeier and family and Mrs. Ardis Darrow and daughter. She attended the wedding on Sunday evening at the Christian Church in Overland Park of her niece Miss Ardel Darrow to Shirley Stevenson, Eldon.

Mrs. Howard Hostess To California BWC

Mrs. T. W. Howard, California, was hostess on Monday night to the Business Women's Circle of the First Baptist Church of California, with 14 members and three visitors present. The visitors were Miss Sadie Winebrenner, Mrs. Clarence Putnam and Mrs. Leonard Hallford. Mrs. Howard gave the devotional "Answering Distant Calls." Miss Oma Cunningham was program leader and the topic was "Entering Wide Doors." Those who assisted with the program were Mrs. George Oesterly,

Susan Strasberg

Stage-Screen Pixie Ready For Major Career Change

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — Stage-screen pixie Susan Strasberg is ready for a major career change.

When it will happen, however, she hasn't decided. "I have a flexible deadline," she says.

The whole thing is quite typical of hazel-eyed Susan, who is an elusive firefly at questions-and-answers.

Miss Strasberg, 19, currently merits dual attention because she is both the fairy princess of the Broadway hit "Time Remastered" and the heroine of a just-released film, "Stage Struck."

The latter, she concedes, is autobiographical—up to a point.

"This play and movie," she says, "were for transition from tomboy girl to grown-up roles."

"I feel I've now reached a point in career development where it is frightening to go ahead—and just as frightening to step back. The only thing to do is plunge in."

"I feel after these parts I've at least got the courage to try. Who wants to do the easy thing?"

Susan, who achieved stardom at a couple of seasons back in "The Diary of Anne Frank," and was a hoyden in the film "Picnic," is a bewitching blend of contradiction in conversation.

She doesn't mind criticism—her voice has received adverse comment in some quarters—because if people didn't pick on one thing they would on another, and without criticism "I'd be bored."

At one point Susan says the "Anne Frank" role created no later career problem, later observes it caused a "hangover of challenge"; feels nervousness "is good—except when it stands in the way"; and contrasts stage and screen work like this:

"To keep up a movie role you have to use energy harder, but the stage is more of a drain."

As for the glitter and glamor, the young star feels she has missed nothing of girlhood "except people always envy what they don't have."

Given a free choice, however, 5-foot-1, 95-pound Susan would like to be taller.

Walston came to Broadway in 1945, has been pretty steadily occupied in 12 productions since. This season has been the peak.

After completing his first film "Kiss Them For Me," Walston repeated his long stage stint for the screen version of "South Pacific."

Immediately after he returned to Broadway for star assignment in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" Now he has taken time out from that to appear in the movie "Damn Yankees." In it he will again be repeating a Broadway role.

Telephone Company Plans News Meeting

A training conference on handling news releases and a discussion of what constitutes news will be conducted by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. at Sedalia next Wednesday and Thursday for managers from several cities in the state.

On Thursday afternoon, the managers will be given some pointers on both subjects by Peter Potter, news editor of The Democrat-Capital.

Attending the conference will be: Roy Moskop, area information manager, St. Louis; Burt Tanco, advertising assistant, St. Louis; H. L. Shipman, division directory sales manager, Kansas City; and Managers R. E. Cato, Carthage, R. M. Rowe, Joplin, H. D. Jayne, St. Louis, C. L. Boll, Poplar Bluff, W. V. Rupp, Moberly, and D. L. Murphy, Fulton.

"I've never gotten over the theater's wonderful smell," she declares, explaining the delight as a compound of greasepaint, the aroma of painted scenery, dust and even the inevitable mustiness of battered dressing rooms.

Miss Roache, who has been in "My Fair Lady" since it opened and is under contract there until 1960, got her first stage job in April 1908, by innocently approaching a London manager.

"What can you do, little girl?" he asked me," she recalls. "All I could say was 'I want to act.'"

With Miss Roache in "My Fair Lady" is her daughter, Philippa Bevans.

"You'll notice I never am too specific about dates," says the mother. "I don't mind about myself but one does have to think of the daughter."

RESTLESS ACTOR: Although he is one of the busiest actors around, Ray Walston is not a man to take his work for granted.

"There is a lot that I don't like about my own work in films," Walston bluntly declares. "It is like learning to act all over again."

Rural Highway Traffic Volume Shows Increase

Traffic volumes on Missouri state highways outside urban areas showed a net increase of 1½ per cent during the calendar year of 1957 over that for 1956, according to statistics compiled by the Missouri State Highway Department's Division of Highway Planning. The report also indicates that traffic increased 13.3 per cent for the four-year period 1954 through 1957 and 58.4 per cent since 1941.

Statistics indicating the 1½ per cent increase in traffic in 1957 over 1956 are based on traffic figures as obtained from 105 traffic recorders stationed at strategic points throughout the state. These recorders are placed on all types of highways in the state system, and have been so located as to provide a pattern of traffic for the state as a whole.

The 13.3 per cent traffic increase noted in the past four years is determined from traffic volume records collected during the period.

The 58.4 per cent increase in the period from 1941 through 1957 is determined from records kept on 27 automatic recorders which have been in operation throughout the state during that entire period.

Nuclear Mistake

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A doctor who uses nuclear radiation equipment telephoned the newspaper in alarm to report that the radiation count in the city was twice normal. He called back soon with a later report: His nurse had upset the crystal on his recording device, and he was happy to report radiation normal again.

Miss Virginia Jones Exchanges Vows With William Spayd

Miss Virginia L. Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Jones, Star Route, became the bride of William Spayd, son of Mrs. W. E. Spayd, Nevada, at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, March 30, at the Broadway Presbyterian Church. The Rev. D. Warren Neal read the ceremony before an altar decorated with palms and baskets of spring flowers. Mrs. Clyde Williams was the organist.

The candelabra held white tapers which were lighted by Stanley Jones.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a champagne suit and carried a bouquet of cymbidium orchids on a white Bible.

Mrs. Stevens McClure, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a suit of mint green and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

E. W. McBratney, Muncie, Ind., was the best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Pearl and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Jones. The dining table held the four-tier wedding cake and punch bowl. White tapers in crystal holders and pink roses with green fernery decorated the linen covered table. Mrs. Paul Meyers and Mrs. McClure served.

The couple left for a wedding trip in the southern states. They are at home at 1517 East 46th, Kansas City.

The bride is a graduate of CMSC and holds a masters degree from Colorado State Teachers College. She is employed as a teacher in the Kansas City Public Schools.

Spayd is a graduate of Kansas City University and is employed by the Kansas City Southern Railroad.

Out of town guests attending were Mrs. W. E. Spayd, Mrs. A. O. McBratney and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Leter and family, Nevada; Miss Fern Ellenburger, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Jones and family, Jefferson City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Barr, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McBratney, Muncie, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Evers and family, Dayton, O.; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones and family, Beloit, Wis.

Mrs. Spayd was entertained prior to her marriage with several parties and showers.

On March 9, Mrs. P. V. Scotten honored the bride with a dessert luncheon and shower and on March 28, Mrs. H. Clay Jones and Mrs. Stevens McClure entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon. On Saturday evening the wedding party and families were entertained with a party at six o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Van G. Jones, followed by a supper given by Mrs. M. P. Shy at Flat Creek Inn.

The new slate of officers for the coming year was announced by Mrs. Alice McKendree, chairman of the nominating committee.

Mrs. Alma Hausam made an announcement regarding the district meeting of Wesleyan Service Guild to be held April 19 and 20 at the Wesley Methodist Church.

The spiritual life was presented by Miss Gwendolyn Tuck, her topic being "March of Youth and Missions." The Scripture reading was taken from Psalms 92 and 95, and the hymn, "Guide Me, Oh, Thou Great Jehovah" was sung.

The program was given by Mrs. W. G. Killingsworth, "Youth of Today," being her theme. She brought out that in the United States in the Methodist church our youth numbers about one and one-half million and most of them are active in helping with building of church camps, ecumenical work in camps around the world, etc. The Methodist Church is in real need of 500 trained missionaries for all parts of the world, and this presents a real challenge to adult members of the church.

A report was made by Janet Morris of an organized "Nurses' Club" at Smith-Cotton High School she told of the group going to Kansas City and visiting two hospitals recently and that in the near future they will go to visit University Hospital, Kansas City, Kan. She also reported on NYF activities and gave an interesting report on a week she spent at Camp Galilee, El Dorado Springs, Mo., with NYF group.

Mrs. Goldie Creamer told about a Wesleyan Service Guild meeting at Melrose Church, Kansas City, which she attended recently. A group of NYF young people from this church presented the program at such meeting and the purpose was to bring a challenge to the Wesleyan Service Guild in helping to foster this NYF organization.

The meeting closed with singing "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us" and a prayer in unison, led by Miss Gwendolyn Tuck.

The engagement of Miss Kathryn Nolting to Warren B. McClester, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. McClester, Magazine, Ark., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nolting, Stover.

Miss Nolting, a graduate of the University of Missouri, is now serving as county home agent in Buchanan County. She also served in this capacity in Linn County.

McClester, also a graduate of Missouri University, is employed by Faber Industries Inc., Peoria, Ill., as district manager in their feed division. He was formerly employed by the Missouri Agriculture Extension Service and worked in Lafayette, Holt, Ray and Linn Counties.

A June wedding is planned.

Extension Club Meets

Thirteen members of the Hughesville Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Clinton Lowrey on April 3. A covered dish luncheon was served at the noon hour. Mrs. Stanton Elliott assisted with the serving.

Mrs. Homer Cunningham presided over the business meeting. The lesson was given by Mrs. Edwin Williams. "Show Off Day" was discussed. Reservations must be in the extension office by noon April 29.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. John Callis on May 7. This will be guest day with each member bringing a guest.

SUMMER PLANNING
The magic of summer is about to be here and if this year follows the usual pattern, we have spring then suddenly it is summer. It usually comes with a rush of out door activities and entertaining, so be smart and have your wardrobe ready. I repeat myself, when I say get out last year's clothes and see what is wearable and for what occasions, then plan your needs from there. Sometimes you will have forgotten a few items such as accessories that are perfectly good and you can build a few outfits around them.

Summer separates are wonderful, a d o r a b l e styles, plus full this year, gorgeous new fabrics that need no ironing. They can be laundered and just let drip dry. A wonderful thought especially around vacation time. Print stripes and solids are all being shown. There is a great deal of white being shown and it is beautiful especially on a hot day. The citrus shades follow through into the summer separates and they are most refreshing. Pastel shoes are available in most colors and when they are matched with your separates it makes a very outstanding outfit.

Flordia Citrus Still There

Winter has cleared out of Florida. There is no doubt the cold weather gave this state the financial as well as physical shivers. However, northerners who expected to see desolation in the orange and grapefruit belt between Ocala and Clewiston are in for a surprise. The citrus fruit trees are still there with plenty of foliage and an abundance of ripened fruit. Loaded trucks by the hundreds are bearing it to market.

From the north thousands of tourists who delayed vacations because of the earlier unseasonable cold below Tallahassee are now on a pilgrimage south. With rare exception motorists are respecting the presence of Florida highway patrolmen and confining their speed to the maximum of 65 miles an hour.

Still Florida is a land of optimists. Henry Kinney, columnist of the Miami Herald, comments on the silver lining side of the recession: "Heaven knows, nobody wants a recession, but there seems to be some arguments in favor of the notion that a continued business decline in the North will increase the number of people who come to Florida to live. Such conditions may stimulate a Florida-ward movement among several categories of people: (1) Small business owners who are getting up in years and calculate they may as well sell out now; (2) Unemployed young people who no longer have jobs to keep them rooted in the North; (3) Older persons whose retirement may be hastened by the slump . . ."

Kinney doesn't say what those young people are going to do for jobs in Florida where the unemployment situation also has followed the Northern trend.

Oh well, for pure unadulterated optimism and originality these Floridians really take the cake. And speaking of delicacies, the latest party snacks in Miami stores are chocolate-covered caterpillars and smoked sparrows.

Do you suppose some enterprising Sedalia restaurateur might create a tasty hors d'oeuvre of toasted chiggers? Ugh!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Financial Probers Sadly Neglected

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — There are two interesting buildings in Washington, both dealing with the financial arteries of the U.S.A., which contrast strangely in architecture, personnel and activity. One is the beautiful marble mausoleum built for the Federal Reserve Board on Constitution Avenue. Here bank presidents from all over the U.S.A. meet to consult on the economics of the nation. An air of discreet conservatism pervades its halls.

It was in this building that the Federal Reserve Board, with some members dissenting, decided to tighten up interest rates last year, which in the opinion of many economists brought on the present recession.

In a completely different part of town, on Second and D Streets, located in a "tempo," is the Securities and Exchange Commission. A tempo is a temporary building built during the war supposedly to be torn down after the war. But in this makeshift building, which in the summertime is the hottest place in Washington, an understaffed, overworked commission passes on the stock and bond issues which mean hundreds of millions to the American public.

Wall Street lawyers leave their comfortable office suites in New York at 8 a.m., fly to Washington, appear before the SEC and catch the 5 p.m. plane back to Manhattan. They bring with them to the nation's capital their overpaid, overstuffed publicity men.

Matching wits against them to protect American stockholders is a SEC staff, cut down to the most miserly budget in history. Yet this is a time when the SEC must pass on more stock issues than ever before; is engaged in more proxy fights than ever before in history.

The SEC, written into law by Sam Rayburn under Roosevelt, used to boast such outstanding public officials as Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas; the late Jerome Frank of the Court of Appeals; Joseph P. Kennedy, Ambassador to England; Leon Henderson, former head of OPA; and Justice Ferdinand Pecora of the New York Supreme Court. Now it is the stepchild of the Eisenhower administration. One of the best ways to kill an agency is to starve it to death.

Note — Ten million families now own stocks. All of them are dependent in one way or another on the SEC as the government watchdog for clean securities.

Washington Low-Downs

Vic Cramer, onetime ace trust buster of the Justice Department, is going to clam up when he testifies before Congressman Celler's trust-busting committee on the telephone monopoly. Cramer knows where the bodies are buried in the fixing of the telephone consent decree, but isn't going to cooperate with Congress. . . The Grand Jury probing the Federal Communications Commission and the Mack case is weak. Some of the jurors don't understand what it's all about. They will do what the District Attorney wants them to do. Probable result: No prosecutions. . . The Harlem Globetrotters, who patriotically went with me to North Africa to entertain U. S. troops last Christmas, will stage a big game at the University of Maryland next week with the college all-stars. Attorney Gen-

Guest Editorial

COLUMBIA MISSOURIAN: Let Them Know. The Missouri Extension Club Council accepted the challenge when a state legislator asked what good home agents do, and at a meeting in Columbia came up with a long list of community contributions made by home agents.

It was an impressive list, a convincing list. Mrs. Paul Woods, president of the state council, said, "It would be just impossible to estimate how much the home extension program has been worth to farm families in dollars saved. But the most important thing, anyway, is that it means a better way of living for all of us."

That abstract phrase, "better living for all," is something that cannot be measured in dollars and cents but is seen in general overall progress. And Mrs. Wood hit the nail on the head when she said that is "the most important thing."

The president said she was at first surprised that anyone in Missouri would not know of the work of the home extension program, but then she considered that perhaps too many club women were "taking the work for granted." And she has suggested to all county unit presidents that it is high time "to let the people know."

And perhaps she hit the nail on the head again. If a state legislator could ask the question, it's likely that many other Missouri citizens do not know the worth of the home extension program.

Aircraft Industry

Many U.S. industries benefit heavily, at one time or another, from government military orders. But the aircraft makers differ in that they are fundamentally dependent upon such orders.

The plane builders obviously have had their ups and downs as military preparedness activity ebbed and flowed in war and peace and threat of war. But now they face the prospect that really large volume output is forever a thing of the past.

The reason, noted the other day by an Air Force official, is that the shift to rockets and missiles has pushed the military plane almost out of the future defense picture.

But we will still need the industry for commercial plane building and for military transports. Government policy in the years ahead plainly must take this into account, and assist the industry to find a new base for continuing economic health.

eral Bill Rogers will open the game by tossing up the ball. . . The FCC has delayed four months in blessing the sale of the Kansas City Star's TV and radio stations. Usually this is automatic. Maybe the FCC is being careful for a change.

Earthquakes and Baths

Bill O'Dwyer, Manhattan's famous ex-mayor and former Ambassador to Mexico, was taking a shower in the Gresham Hotel in Dublin when the Associated Press came to tell him that his office building in Mexico City had fallen over at 2:30 a.m.

"Anyone hurt?" asked O'Dwyer. "No," replied the AP. "What are you going to do?"

"I'm going back to finish my shower."

Backstage in New York
Democrats usually start battling between themselves when victory seems just around the corner and that's what they're doing in New York right now. Result could be Nelson Rockefeller, Republican, as Governor.

The conservative wing of the Democratic party (sometimes called the Irish wing) wants big Jim Farley to run for the Senate. This has brought howls of opposition from the Liberal party which holds the balance of power, also from Roosevelt Democrats. Both remember how Big Jim knifed FDR in his latter years. Conservative Democrats are willing to compromise — maybe — with Frank Hogan, the District Attorney, or Tom Murray, former Atomic Energy Commissioner. But they don't want Tom Finletter, former Air Force Secretary.

As a result Dave Dubinsky, head of the International Ladies Garment Workers and moving spirit in the Liberal Party, has thrown down the gauntlet. He has dropped private threats that if the Democrats don't nominate a Liberal he will swing the Liberal Party over to Nelson Rockefeller for Governor, thereby undercutting Gov. Averell Harriman.

There's an interesting bond between Dubinsky and Rockefeller. Dubinsky's friend and adviser for years has been Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, former Assistant Secretary of Defense. The Rockefeller family's labor adviser for many years has been the same Mrs. Anna Rosenberg. She is not averse to a marriage between Nelson Rockefeller, Republican candidate for Governor, and the Liberal Party.

Work For Idle Hands

Many suggestions have been made to the President and to Congress. The alphabetical titles PWA and WPA do not sit well with a Republican administration, but if a federal works program has to step in and make work for idle hands, it will be the same thing, no matter what the alphabetical designation may be.

A practical suggestion which might help a few people is the Spring cleaning job. Every house and every yard needs some repair or cleaning-up job. Many folks try the do-it-yourself philosophy because they think it is cheaper when they are not at all suited for it.

If some person unemployed at the moment, but a skillful handyman, would just let it be known that he would wield a paintbrush, hang some wall paper, clean a yard, take down the storm windows, put up the screens, or even baby sit, or read to a lonely old man or woman, perhaps his own burden could be lifted a little and what a help he would be to someone else.

Some of the unemployed are unemployable, but a look at the classified ad columns and making use of them, might work.

Electric Needle Gives Best Results With Unwanted Hair

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Excessive misplaced hairiness in women is undoubtedly a source of a great deal of mental suffering. It probably prevents at least a few women, who are otherwise highly qualified, from entering into matrimony and leading normal family lives. Consequently, the subject of superfluous hair is a medical as well as cosmetic problem.

Why some women have more hair than others is poorly understood.

Only occasionally is excessive hairiness caused by disease. However, if the hair starts growing rapidly in unwanted spots of the body, careful physical examination and diagnostic studies should be made.

In most cases, however, the hairiness of the face or arms is unexplained except that some inherited factor from one or the other parent may be involved. By this I mean that there are family and racial differences in hairiness of the body.

There are several ways of attacking the problem.

The unwanted hair can be shaved. This is unsatisfactory for a short time but generally results in a gradual thickening of the hair and even more conspicuous regrowth.

The hair can be bleached or dyed, but the hair continues to grow out so this has to be repeated frequently.

The hair may be taken off with hair removers which often consist of some kind of wax which fastens to the hairs and pulls them out sive hair is treating the roots of the hair by an electric needle.

It is somewhat costly and often involves several "treatments," but newer methods when used by skilled electrologists are said to be fast and less painful than in the past.

One reader has asked whether there is any danger in having facial hair removed by the electric needle and whether it leaves enlarged pores.

It is my understanding that when this method is performed with proper equipment and by a skilled operator there is no danger and it is not likely to leave any disfigurement in the way of enlarged pores or scarring.

"Do you like to go to school?" a man asked an eight-year-old boy. "No," replied the youngster, "I don't want to go to school."

"Why, Bill," said the man, who is a friend of the boy's father, "you don't want to grow up to be ignorant like your dad, do you?"

"My Dad's not ignorant," the little boy flared up. "He's smart. Why he can divide 50 to 555."

"He can!" said the man. "Well, how did you happen to pick that number?"

"Because," replied the boy, "it's the mostest easiest." — H. L.

The Alarm Clock

When night has changed to morning
And sleeping's really good,
You hear that bell of warning
To get up when you should,
But the bed is just so soft and warm
And you can't get awake,
You turn off that old alarm —
Which is a big mistake,
You'll lie there longer, 'cause you know
That wide awake you'll keep,
It gives you such a happy glow —
The next thing you're asleep,
And then you wake up with a start
To find it's getting late,
You dress yourself — at least in part,
No breakfast — you can't wait —
Already now at work you're due in,
And breathless you rush in,
When someone starts to kidding you
And all the rest will grin;
Or maybe you forget at night
Before you go to bed
To set that old alarm just right
And so you sleep instead
Of getting up as you should,
And hustling on your way,
You find, like most of us would,
You'll sleep a half a day;
Then there's the man who wants to go
Somewhere, he sets the clock
To another hour, his wife doesn't know,
It gives her quite a shock
To have the daylight in her eyes,
She goes to work at seven,
Looks at the clock, to her surprise,
The alarm is at eleven;
And that old electric number,
When at night off goes the power,
Then you wake up from your slumber
And you wonder at the hour;
That old alarm clock makes us fuss,
But it's a blessed thing,
Now just what would become of us
If we didn't hear its ring;
Why, we'd never get to work, I guess,
Or where we want to go,
Up in time to eat and dress;
We never could — I know.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

ADC Illegitimacy Costs

$1.5 Million in Taxes

Missouri taxpayers pay through the nose to the tune of about $1,500,000 a year for the support of illegitimate children under the aid to the dependent children program. Figures from the state department of welfare show that 12,061 or 18 per cent of those on the ADC rolls, were born out of wedlock. It takes about $1.5 million of the state's tax collections to pay for the support of these illegitimate children. It also drains about $2.8 million a year from federal funds—also derived from taxes which Missourians must pay.

The ADC program for 1958-1959 will cost the state $7,300,000 and will take $18,885,300 in federal funds. This is roughly $4,000,000 more than the cost of the program in 1957-58. Just three years ago, the ADC program was costing only about half what it does at present.

Better than half of those on the ADC rolls are wards of the state because of divorce, separation, desertion or illegitimacy. The others receive state aid because of the death of a parent or physical or mental disability of a parent. The homes, churches and schools are apparently falling down on the job of instilling moral character in Missouri citizens.

The highest percentage of illegitimacy on the ADC rolls is in Scott County where 22.6 per cent of the children receiving state aid are illegitimate. Mississippi County is a close second with 22.5 per cent of its ADC recipients being illegitimate. Pemiscot County is third with 20 per cent.

The illegitimacy record in Southeast Missouri ranges from a low of 4.9 per cent in Dunklin County to the high of 22.6 per cent in Scott County. The welfare department says this is primarily due to a variation in the Negro population among the counties. Dunklin has a small Negro population while such counties as Pemiscot, Scott, New Madrid, and Mississippi have a large number of Negroes.

The welfare office says: "The fact that illegitimacy rates are substantially higher among Negro families than white families account for the difference in the rates of illegitimacy."

The welfare office says there is an indication that the factor of illegitimacy is declining slightly. However, there seems to be no indication of a drop in the number of ADC cases caused by divorce, separation and desertion.

That's where the moral leaders of the state have their work out for them. Either they do a better job of instilling moral character or the state will continue to spend a large part of its tax dollar on the sins of a few.

Tattooed Recruits

Taboo for Patrol

If you have ambitions toward becoming a state highway patrolman, don't bother sending in an application if you've been tattooed. One of the requirements for applicants for the state highway patrol is that tattoo marks must either be removed, or be non-existent.

It isn't that the patrol is against the skin ornamentation favored by sailors. It's just that a tattoo mark might make a patrolman on plain clothes duty easy to identify. It doesn't inspire public confidence either.

The highway patrol is now accepting applicants for some 120 positions which will be open this year. The first training class of 40 recruit troopers will start in May at the old Trachoma hospital at Rolla with another class to follow in July and a third still later in the year. One hundred of the new recruits are authorized to increase the size of the patrol and 20 will fill vacancies created by resignations.

Major K. K. Johnson, patrol training director, said physical and mental examinations will be given at the Rolla site April 17-30. The mental examinations will consist of tests of the applicants' intelligence memory and observation powers and ability in English composition.

The requirements for highway troopers are high. The age limits are 21 to 33 and applicants must be at least five feet eight inches tall but not taller than six feet three inches. Applicants must be high school graduates or possess a certificate of equivalency.

State law provides that no person shall be appointed to the patrol who has been convicted of any offense—this includes convictions in magistrate court (but not city police courts) for traffic offenses. Prospective members also must be resident tax paying citizens of Missouri for at least three years prior to appointment. Each candidate is carefully investigated in his home community after the initial screening.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, patrol superintendent, said applicants who are qualified should apply at the nearest troop headquarters.

Beginning patrolmen are paid $4100 a year with a uniform allowance of $25 a month. They are furnished all equipment and provided with transportation. A 10 per cent increase in salary (known as a fudge) is provided for each five years of service. There are also provisions for retirement at 55 years of age, with retirement being compulsory at 60.

There's one hitch about becoming a patrolman — the working hours. The work day is nine hours and there is no extra pay for overtime. Troopers get six days off a month and 12 days vacation. Members do not get holidays off unless they are part of the regular monthly or annual leave.

Local Train Service

Dealt Death Blow

A ruling of the state public service commission may have sounded the knell for local railroad passenger service unless it is heavily patronized.

The commission said recently it "cannot close its eyes to changes which have taken place in the past years." A ruling had just been issued which authorized discontinuance of two Katy passenger trains between St. Louis and the Missouri-Kansas line. The railroad was able to prove that it was losing money on the run since there were only 6.68 passengers for each train mile traveled and half of those were through passengers not destined for local points.

The PSC noted that the state has "provided a network of all weather highways. Economic and other changes are rampant and with a progressive people, alternative methods of transportation inevitably result."

"By the use of automobiles and the certificated motor buses, the transportation needs, particularly local in character, are readily satisfied without the use of trains. These changes have eliminated practically all railroad passenger service of the local character, lessened the railroad's former monopoly on passenger transportation and are a continuing threat to successful trunkline continental railroad operations."

Ruth Millett Says

False Pride Saps More Energy Than It's Worth

Why bother —

To try to get into a social group that will be a financial struggle to keep up with?

To try to make your friends and neighbors think you have more money than you do?

To keep your age a secret as though there were something shameful about the number of years you have lived?

To "get even" with a person who has hurt you or made you angry?

To take a conceited person down a notch?

To load your conversation with the names of important people in an effort to impress new acquaintances?

To borrow trouble by worrying about things that may never happen?

To brood over yesterday's mistakes?

To try to keep others from liking a person just because you don't happen to like him?

One Of The Crowd

To do things you don't enjoy doing for no better reason than that "it's the thing to do" and you don't want to be different?

To go to meetings you feel are a waste of time simply because you are urged to go?

To try to justify yourself when you know you are in the wrong when it would be so much simpler to admit your error?

To try to keep up with someone else's standards instead of setting your own?

To argue with anyone whose judgment and opinions you do not respect?

To worry after you have made a decision over whether or not it was the right one?

To try to make others feel sorry for you when it would be so much better to win their admiration by conquering self-pity?

Movie Studio Obituary Is A Sad Chore

HOLLYWOOD — There are few things sadder than writing the obituary for a movie studio. That's my unpleasant chore, now that the death of Republic as a movie producer and distributor has been announced. The news was confirmed last week by President Herbert J. Yates at the annual stockholders meeting.

Yates said he expects Republic earnings to rise from sales of films to TV, rental of studio space and laboratory services. But the company is shutting down its exchanges throughout the world and will make no more pictures.

This wasn't exactly news. As a film studio, Republic has been slowly dying for years. Yates merely signed the death certificate.

Could Republic have been saved?

It's a lot easier to make a post-mortem than cure a grave illness. Nevertheless, observers point out how Republic failed to meet the demands of a changing industry.

There has been much ado about Yates' constant backing of features starring his wife Vera Ralston when there appeared to be no great public demand for her films. Irrate stockholders were always complaining about the losses racked up by her pictures, the excess amounts paid leading men to costar with her, the fact that her brother Rudy produced her films.

No figures are available on how much the Vera Ralston movies drained from Republic resources.

In the old days, Republic was geared to grind out cheap pictures. It did a good job of it, producing action pictures that were much needed by theaters in small towns. Gene Autry was a real moneymaker, galloping through eight Westerns a year for the action market. Roy Rogers followed in that field.

Sedalian Awarded Fulbright Scholarship

William Hammond, Sedalia, a graduate of Central Missouri State College, has been granted a Fulbright Scholarship to Strasbourg and Paris. He will study modern French history and will write on the Marne-Rhine Canal.

Hammond, who graduated from CMSC last year with an outstanding record, is now studying at the University of Missouri where he is a candidate for a master's degree in European history. He was a member of the debate and oratory teams at CMSC. The Players, Pi Kappa Delta forensics fraternity, Alpha Kappa Lambda social fraternity, the Prexy Club, president of the Student Christian Association, International Relations Club, and vice-president of the Cosmos club, and Unesco. He was also president of the Missouri YMCA. He received the Holmes Award, a national recognition, for outstanding leadership.

Producer Puts Big Emphasis On Scripts

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — How does Sam Spiegel do it?

The question was a natural one after the chunky producer walked off with his second Oscar in four years. He won for "On the Waterfront" in 1953. "The Bridge on the River Kwai" in 1957.

To find out the answer, I tracked Spiegel down in a rare moment of sitting still. He was in his office at Columbia Studios, surrounded by the seven Oscars won by "Kwai."

"If I have any secret of success, it is in preparing a script," he commented. "That, and finding the right people for the picture. And if the script is good enough, you can get the right people."

Spiegel demonstrated: Alec Guinness didn't want to do "Kwai," changed his mind when he saw the script.

William Holden and Cary Grant vied to do the role of the American in the film, even though both realized it was the secondary part. How did the producer decide between the two film giants?

It was easy—Bill decided fast, er, he said. "I sent both of them the script. Bill called me in New York right away and said he'd do it. Cary said he wanted me to come out to California and discuss a few scenes he was concerned about. I took Bill."

It's an old Spiegel trick to tailor his scripts so they will prove irresistible to stars. Marlon Brando first turned down "On the Waterfront." Spiegel reworked the script for a year.

"I invited Marlon to my hotel on a Friday night and gave him the script to read," the producer recalled. "When he finished, we talked about it until early morning. The next day, contracts were started and five days later, we started shooting."

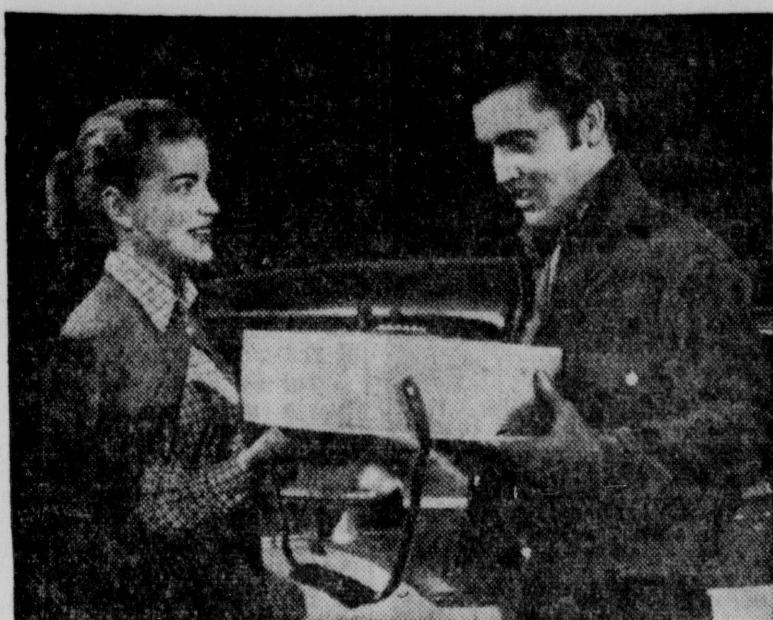

Another Spiegel trick is using real locales — Africa, the Jersey waterfront, Ceylon.

"They said I was crazy to go all the way to Africa for 'The African Queen,'" he said. "After all, it was mostly two people in a boat; that could have been shot on a process stage in Hollywood. But I knew it wouldn't seem like Africa if I did that. I got a special quality by shooting it on the spot."

There's an added factor here. By avoiding the crushing overhead of a Hollywood studio, he figures he can save a million dollars in costs per picture.

Highest Tides

Highest tides in the world occur in Nova Scotia's Bay of Fundy, 170-mile-long pocket of ocean northeast of Maine. Tides at the head of the bay may rise and fall as much as 53 feet and involve more than 100 billion tons of water.

Young love blossoms between small-town boy Elvis Presley and teen-aged dance band singer Dolores Hart, in warm scene from Hal Wallis' Vista-Vision-Technicolor "Loving You," music-packed drama now at the 50 Drive-In Theatre. The film introduces Miss Hart, co-stars Elizabeth Scott, Wendell Corey, and is Elvis' first big-screen musical. The co-feature "Stranger On Horseback" has Joel McCrea in the starring role.

Struggling songwriter Nat "King" Cole, on the trumpet, steps along in a Beal St. parade, in scene from Paramount's "St. Louis Blues," Vista-Vision delighter today at the Fox Theatre. Eartha Kitt, Pearl Bailey, Cab Calloway, Ella Fitzgerald, Mahalia Jackson round out great start cast in biofilm based on life and music of W. C. Handy, creator of the blues.

Forbes Quits As Bowie; Knife Ignored

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Scott Forbes, the only British-born Western star in TV, is quitting as Jim Bowie. Among his reasons: they wouldn't let him use his bowie knife.

After two seasons and 78 films on ABC Friday nights, Forbes has bowed out of the Bowie series. A major factor is money. He says the producers didn't come up with enough of an improvement in salary for a third season.

"But an important reason in my decision was that they wouldn't let me use the knife," he added. "After the opening show, the knife was a mere ornament. The producers and the sponsors decided it would be dangerous for kids to see a knife used on TV."

"I think such reasoning is ridiculous. Any normal kid knows the difference between an adventure on television and real life."

"I believe that is a major reason why the show hasn't reached a top rating. People feel cheated because they don't see the knife used. And I couldn't use a gun very often because the period was 1826-30, when only flintlock muzzle loaders were used. So it was an action show with little action." Forbes admitted that his casting as Bowie was "a bit of a stretch" in the first place. Born in England he lived part of his youth in South Africa. He still had a slight British accent when he came to Hollywood, and he played in costume pictures.

A role in the Frontier series caught the eye of the Jim Bowie producers. Much to his surprise, he won the role.

"One of the reasons I'm bowing out is because I don't want to be typed as a Western star," he said.

Willina Guild Meets With Mrs. Hayden

The Willina Guild of the Windsor Christian Church met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. F. L. Hayden.

Mrs. Alvus Bradley, president, conducted the business session, after which Mrs. John Lowry gave a very interesting lesson on "Women of the Bible".

During the social hour the hostess served refreshments to 24.

Mrs. Glen Cave and two daughters, Otterville, and Miss Malloy Harvey were guests.

"One more year might do it. Sure, the money would be nice, but I think I would be accepting a false value. My whole career might be harmed."

The Bowie producers have introduced a new hero, played by Joe Patridge, at the end of the second series. If the show is renewed, he'll take over in Forbes' place.

Spring Brings Out Request For New Gardening Books

Spring is in the air finally anding "American Gardener's Book of Bulbs" available. It is a work designed for the average gardener to having the pleasure of seeing flowers grow, trees and shrubs blossom, and lawns turn into soft, delicate and promising green. If you need books on gardening or something on the art of landscaping the Boonslick Regional Library and its staff can help and advise you.

First, for instance, is "A Treasury of American Gardening," which covers many interesting subjects and has something for almost everybody. The "Kitchen Garden Month by Month" is an almanac of good eating from one's own vegetable garden. "A Gardener's Story of the Soil" is the dramatic picture of the "good earth" itself. In "Gardens of America," illustrated with forty-two vivid and beautiful pictures, are representative gardens from all parts of the country. "The Garden Club Story," including photographs of prize-winning arrangements from the New York Flower Show, tells the story of what American garden clubs have done and are doing.

"We paid rent on our house before we built it"

A young couple in our town have just moved into a brand-new, wonderful home of their own. From their savings, they used $2500 for the down payment and $1000 more for new things for the house. A while ago, they hit on a smart idea. Every time they paid rent they put an amount equal to a quarter of the rent into their savings account and ear-marked it for their new home. Earnings on their savings helped their account grow. Then came the happy day when they could buy the home they wanted.

The place they chose to save was our Insured Savings and Loan Association. Here, generous dividends, compounded, and friendly cooperation make any savings plan work more quickly, more easily. Savings are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Government. Why not stop by and start saving with us today for a home of your own or any of the things YOU want?

The outdoor sunrise service held at 4:30 a.m. Easter morning by New Salem Baptist Church at Marshall Junction was well attended.

The Crucifixion and Resurrection were spotlighted as special music was presented by the church choir under the leadership of James Renison. Mrs. Ernest Aldridge, Sweet Springs, and her nephew, James Horner, Kansas City, created and painted life-size figures of Christ that were used in the portrayal of the two incidents.

Refreshments were served in the church basement following the service.

She Successfully Followed Advice to Learn Boss' Job

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman who operates a 100-million-dollar-a-year business gave this success tip today to aspiring young secretaries:

"Don't concentrate on marrying the son of the boss. Instead learn the job of the boss."

Blue-eyed Miss Catherine L. O'Brien, a pleasantly stout and cheerful woman, followed her own advice.

One of seven children of an Irish electrician, she went to work at 17. In 1931, she quit a good-paying job as secretary for an insurance firm to help the late Frank Stanley Beveridge found the Stanley Home Products Co. in Westfield, Mass.

The first year it did a business of only $72,000.

"I had to learn the boss' business, because I had to help in everything," recalled Miss O'Brien. "In addition to typing letters, I learned to do the buying, keep the books, help supervise manufacture and distribution."

"I even put the handles in the brushes we sold, and packed the orders."

Rung by rung she climbed the ladder. In 1951 she became president of the firm. With the help of only one vice president (a man), Miss O'Brien now directs some 4,000 employees and 25,000 dealers (mostly housewives) across the nation.

She is also a director for three banks, is active in several philanthropic organizations. Her annual income from salary and investments is more than $100,000.

Never a "yes woman" herself, Miss O'Brien doesn't believe in surrounding herself with "yes men." But she has little trouble dealing with her own male executives, and explained with a smile: "I'm in a fortunate position. I hired most of them myself over the years."

Here are some of her thoughts on women in industry:

"It is definitely harder for a woman to get ahead in business than for a man. Any woman who wants to get ahead must realize and accept this, and go on from there."

"In dealing with men a woman should never be domineering. Men are dominated by woman all their lives — by mothers, teachers, wives. They think women are always carping. Give them praise instead. They blossom with appreciation. A word of praise can often get you over a tight situation faster than all the logic of Aristotle."

"For heaven's sake, wear comfortable shoes. Many women have lost golden opportunities because of an unfortunate remark, or a chilling display of temper, caused by her aching feet."

What causes most women to fail to achieve success?

"Unwillingness to pay the price," said Miss O'Brien firmly. "The price of success for a woman is loneliness. If she isn't willing to make her job her life, she should give up the idea of that kind of success."

"To have helped build something, to see it grow, is like having

New Film Screen Wins Approval Of Premiere Viewer

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You know about wall-to-wall carpeting. Now they've got wall-to-wall movies.

"Windjammer" had its world premiere last night on a Cinemiracle screen that almost filled the back of the famed Grauman's Chinese Theater. The new three-camera, three-projector process seemed to win the warm approval of an audience that included Ernest Borgnine, Marie Wilson, Ann Miller, Lauritz Melchior, Miyoshi Umeki, Edgar Bergen and Charles Coburn.

The movie traces the cruise of the cadet sailing ship Christian Radich from Oslo to the West Indies, up the east coast of the United States and back to Oslo.

Like Cinerama, there is no plot, and that proved the biggest disappointment.

But pictorially, "Windjammer" is stunning. Shots of a submarine diving and sailing ships in stormy seas are shown in breathtaking clarity.

Cinemiracle excels Cinerama in almost erasing the seams where the three images meet on the screen. Both processes have three projectors, but they are locked in the same booth in Cinemiracle. The two side pictures are projected via mirrors.

The process is the baby of the big National Theater Chain, which decided it should get into the big screen race too.

It is off to a good start. Now, if a

Ararat a Volcano

they will only get a feature with a plot.

Thinking of Buying a Spinet Piano?

THIS GUIDE WILL HELP YOU

✓ Check These Points

Be sure the piano you buy contains these fundamental principles which are incorporated into all fine pianos.

✓ LAMINATED OAK BACK Means the piano stays in tune longer under the 20 ton pressure of the piano strings. The strength of the back plays a vital part in keeping ANY piano in tune — regardless of size.

✓ GRAND PIANO TYPE FLANGED PLATE means greater strength and fewer tunings.

✓ AUGMENTED SOUNDING BOARD — a heavier center surface means greater amplification of tone giving the Spinet a big piano tone. Thus a 37" Spinet has more tone than a 40" piano of another make.

✓ TROUBLE FREE ACTION — Be sure the action used hard rock maple throughout.

✓ FIRST NAME — Be sure the piano bears the real name of the maker — not a "Second" Stencil or "Ghost" name. The true name of the maker on the fall board and CAST into the plate is your protection against imposition.

✓ GRAND PIANO PIN BLOCK means more room for extra sounding board, better and bigger tone. The pin block should be made of five ply hard rock maple to prevent the pins from slipping.

✓ PRICE TAGS — Be sure the piano you buy has a PRINTED PRICE TAG which corresponds with the factory retail price list. A homemade "Padded" price tag is the perfect trap for the "Bargain hunter."
